MIGs, Sabres And Air Sickness

A second Russian MIG jet has now been landed in Denmark by a Polish pilot.

Lt. Francis Zek Jarecki flew the first one in last March. In a recent interview he said he left because he was a Pole and disliked the Communists now "running" Poland.

The Russian jet is, he said, "a wonderful airplane. It will fly at 725 miles an hour or better in level flight, handles beautifully, gives you no trouble. If it had the electronic gunsight of the F-86 Sabrejet it would be the finest fighter in the world."

This was not news to our pilots.

The MIG will outfly and in most respects outperform the Sabre because it weighs 4,500 pounds less. It has little protection for the pilots and it lacks the fabulous gunsight which, despite the MIG's superior maneuverability, has enabled the American pilots to fire accurately before they really have seen the enemy.

Magic Gunfire

The U. S. Sabrejet radar gunsight automatically picks up the enemy aircraft, aims the guns and fires them. At jet speeds that's magic.

So, while the MIG can fly faster, climb higher and is more maneuverable, our pilots continue to excel with their magic gunfire. The Sabre has certain edges. It will not spin as easily as the MIG. It possesses an over-all deceleration advantage. The F-86 has a superior dive performance. But, were it not for the gunsight American pilots would likely have suffered heavily. A chief Russian tactic in Korea is for two flights of MIGs to go high, and on each side, of a flight of Sabres. When the Sabres break formation to meet one MIG flight diving to attack, the other tries to come at the Sabres from the rear.

Our pilots in Korea say they are deep-down sick of always "looking up at the bottom of the MIGs." But, they rate the F-86 Sabre as an over-all better air weapon than the Russian jet. They would reverse this if the MIG had the gunsight. It is "the main difference."

All of which illustrates the Air Force problem. The Russians have captured the gunsight. It is believed they need about a year to reproduce it.

But, that is but one phase of many which has the Air Force gray and sick.

Defense

Pilot Jarecki said, "The (Russian) radar net is VERY complete . . . and the IL-28 will be made soon. It's a twin-jet attack bomber."

What makes the Air Force, harder hit by the administration economy wave than any other, especially sick is what seems to be an almost smug assumption by the Civilian Defense department that the "Russians are planning only a defensive war." This is the excuse used by Secretary of Defense Wilson to defend major surgery on the Air Force appropriation. It is true the Russians have built a deep radar net and have constructed many interceptor fields.

But, the Air Force knows that if Europe is overrun we are in range from there. And they also keep looking nervously toward Alaska and the Hudson's Bay area of Canada which is "the slot" down which an attack could come from Russia — with no radar at all to give warning.

The Air Force, having witnessed the technical dismissal of the nonpartisan chiefs of staff as if they were political appointees, with the reason frankly stated that they were by-passed because they did not agree with the Senate leadership philosophy, is not in agreement with the President—but it cannot say so.

Privately they say — "When General Eisenhower was in Europe he asked for, and accepted, the evaluation presented by the Air Force. He did so because he had no experience in that field. Now, he is accepting the advice of civilian production men from industry as to what the nation needs for defense and for strategic delivery of the A-bombs. And with the Chiefs of Staff on notice as to what to expect if they oppose Senate GOP policy, the outlook is poor visibility.

House Kills Ike Cuts in VocationAid

Land-Grant College Fund Also Boosted

By VINCENT J. BURKE

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The House voted today to override Eisenhower administration plans for an economy cut of $4,624,401 in federal grants for state vocational educational programs.

Routing the economy bloc, the House tentatively approved six of nine amendments to increase a $1,965,581,570 bill to finance the Departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Before quitting work until Monday, the House added $6,534,891 to the bill. Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana complained the House could not finish work on the bill today because of more than 15 other pending amendments to increase the funds.

BELOW TRUMAN BID

Despite the six increases, the bill still was $125,946,400 below the original Truman budget request and was $56,896,109 below the total amount sought by the Eisenhower administration. This reflects cuts by the House appropriations committee.

The House added $2,624,391 to the vocational funds, bringing them back to the $18,673,271 requested in former President Truman's budget.

The House appropriations committee had recommended restoring $2,000,000 of the funds eliminated by the Eisenhower administration. But the House by a standing vote of 123 to 61 approved an amendment by Representative Barden (Dem., N. C.) to restore the remaining $2,624,391.

COLLEGE FUND

Also restored was $2,501,500 in federal aid for land-grant colleges which the appropriations committee had deleted from the Truman budget. Representative Busbey (Rep., Ill.), head of the subcommittee which drafted the bill, offered the amendment himself.

The Budget Bureau had first recommended cutting the item in half, but later recommended the entire budget amount.

Milton Eisenhower, brother of the President, is chairman of the executive committee of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities. Association Secretary Russell Thackrey told a reporter the President's brother took no part in the efforts to restore the funds.

In tentatively approving an appropriation of $255,184,000 for the

Year's Warmest Weather Due; No Sign of Rain

Atlanta is slated to have its warmest weather so far this year Saturday and Sunday, with a high of 90, the Atlanta Weather Bureau reports.

A high of 89 was recorded in Atlanta Friday, hottest on record so far this year. The low was 66. Low readings Saturday and Sunday will be 68, with "no chance of rain," the forecaster said.

Over the state Friday Valdosta reported a high of 96, and Albany, Alma, Augusta, Macon and Savannah recorded highs of 95. Hottest point in the nation, the bureau reported, was Presidio, Texas, with 111 degrees.

BABE, SAVED FROM WOODS, RESTING UP
Beverly Bradley In Hospital, With Undersheriff John Reindl

STILL CLUTCHING DOLL

Copter Rescues Child 3 Days in Swamps

MENOMINEE, Mich., May 22—(AP)—Beverly lost her overalls but she still had her doll.

That is a summary of the 49-hour ordeal undergone by 2½-year-old Beverly Bradley from the time she wandered out of a cottage yard Wednesday until she was picked up by a Coast Guard helicopter at 12:15 p. m. today.

The tot was spotted by Comdr. Paul Morasky shortly after he piloted a helicopter from Traverse City to join the search that already had enlisted virtually every available man in Menominee County.

Beverly was lying on an abandoned logging road, tired and dirty and mosquito-bitten, and although she was down to her T-shirt and red underpants she still ha dthe doll she carried when she vanished into the swampy brushland.

Taken into the aircraft, Beverly was flown at once to St. Joseph's Hospital here and landed in the hospital parking lot.

Shortly afterward, however, following emergency treatment for exposure, she greeted her divorced parents — Mrs. Ocalla Bradley of Milwaukee and Paul A. Bradley of Greenville, Ohio—with the statement:

"I wanna get up."

Upper Michigan was swept by rains during Beverly's ordeal.

2,200 Here Will Share GM Raises

Approximately 2,200 workers at the Buick - Oldsmobile - Pontiac plant at Doraville will share in pay raises agreed on Friday between General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers in Detroit.

But W. H. Bolte, manager of the Atlanta plant, said no agreement had been reached late Friday in "grievance" discussions between the local assembly plant and members of Local 10 of the national union. Bolte did say, however, that "progress" was being made in the talks.

The new pay agreement, based on an historic five-year contract signed in May, 1950, covers about 350,000 GM workers. Briefly, this is what the union and company agreed on:

1. A one-cent boost in the present four-cent annual productivity wage increase.

2. Addition of 19 cents of the current 24 cents an hour cost of living allowance to basic wage rates.

3. A wage boost of 10 cents an hour for 40,000 skilled trades workers.

4. Transition from the "old" to the "new" government price index to govern operation of the cost-of-living escalator clause.

Only the union's demand for an adjustment in the pension program was not included in the new agreement.

The switch to the "new" Bureau of Labor Statistics price index means it will require less upward movement of the index to bring about new pay increases.

Living Costs Rise, Near '52 Record

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The cost of living rose one-tenth of 1 per cent last month to within one-half of 1 per cent of the record high set last November, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

The bureau's consumer price index now stands at 113.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average, seven-tenths of 1 per cent higher than a year ago and 11.7 per cent higher than just before the start of the Korean War in June, 1950.

The report covered the month ended April 15.

Prices of goods and services showed a slight increase during the period while food and clothing prices fell off slightly.

Final PW Plan Held Up to Ike

May Upset Our Allies, Solons Fear

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—President Eisenhower may hand down within a matter of hours a decision on the prisoner of war deadlock in Korea that could cause the displeasure of this nation's allies, senators reported today.

They made the statement after some 15 Republican and Democratic members of the House and Senate foreign relations committees were briefed at a secret State Department meeting by Acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith. Senator George (Dem., Ga.) was in the group.

Truce negotiations are scheduled to resume at Panmunjom Monday (Sunday night Atlanta time) after an eight-day recess requested by the U.N.

Senate members of the group which met with Smith said they were given details of the "final" U. N. proposal, but that at least one highly-explosive issue still was undecided. They were convinced Mr. Eisenhower alone would have to make the decision.

It involves Article 24 of the UN proposal for handling prisoners of war unwilling to return home which was given the Reds at Panmunjom on May 15.

The article dealt with the voting procedure of the commission composed of India, Sweden, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Poland which would take control of the prisoners.

Under the UN proposal, the commission would have to reach its decision by "unanimous" vote, except for "procedural matters", in which only a "majority vote" would be needed.

The decision now to be made by Mr. Eisenhower is which matters should be considered "procedural" and decided on a majority vote and which should be resolved only by unanimity.

Aggression Clouds Talks, Dulles Says

NEW DELHI, India, May 22 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he doubted any good would come of big power talks with Soviet leaders unless the Communist bloc stopped its aggression in Korea and Indochina and agreed on independence for Austria.

His statement, given at a news conference here just before he flew on to Karachi, Pakistan, aroused special interest in the light of the coming Bermuda meeting of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and whatever premier takes up the reins of France's fallen government."

Churchill has expressed the hope the Big 3 talks next month might lead to a broader discussion of East-West tension with Soviet Premier Malenkov.

"I doubt," said Dulles, "that very important results could come out of any high-level conference including the leaders of Soviet Russia so long as the Soviet bloc countries are promoting a war of aggression in Korea, a war of aggression in Indochina — against Laos; so long as in Europe they refuse to restore the independence of Austria and withdraw their occupation troops from that small and inoffensive country."

May Fuel Taxes Jump $62,724

Motor fuel taxes this month show an increase of $62,724 over April and a gain of $232,871 over May of 1951, State Revenue Commissioner Charles D. Redwine disclosed Friday.

Redwine said this month's report showed the gasoline and kerosene tax collections totalled $5,048,716, as compared to $4,985,992 last month and $4,915,844 in May, 1952.

His Wife To Run? Governor Is Amused

Governor Talmadge laughingly spiked a rumor Friday that Mrs. Talmadge might be a candidate next year to succeed him as the state's chief executive.

The Talmadges were informed at Lovejoy that such a rumor has been heard in middle and north Georgia and around the capitol. The governor said it was the first they had heard of the report and that he and Mrs. Talmadge were highly amused at it. There is nothing to the rumor, he added.

Wilson Should Quit, Solon Says; 1st B-47 Wing Set for Britain

Twining Hits Long-Range Bomb Critics

DALLAS, Texas, May 22—(AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining announced tonight that the Air Force will send its first wing of B-47 atomic bombing Stratojets to Britain early next month for training purposes.

The newly-designated Air Force chief of staff made the disclosure in an address to the Aviation Writers Association in which he also attacked critics of Air Force strategic bombing plans.

Several parts of his speech appeared at odds with views expressed by Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman-designate of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Defense Secretary Wilson.

45 STRATOJETS

He said the 306th Medium Bombardment Wing from McDill Air Force Base at Tampa, Fla., will go to Britain for a 90-day training period. The unit has 45 of the 600-mile-an-hour B-47 bombers.

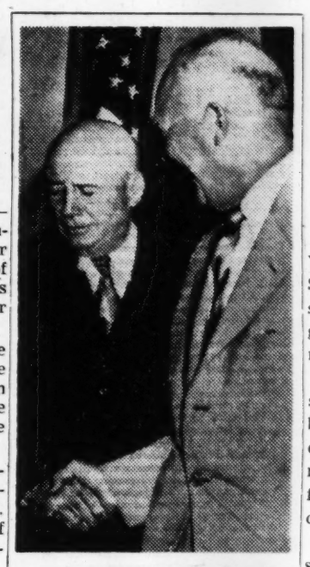

At the outset of his speech, Twining said that no aspect of military aviation has been "attacked and misrepresented so often" as long-range strategic bombing. He said it has been "referred to disparagingly as 'mass bombing' or as 'area bombing.' "

Radford used both terms in his 1949 attack before Congress on the controversial B-36 bomber. Radford said then that high-altitude B-36 bombing would result in mass destruction rather than pinpointed attacks on purely military targets.

OFFERS WARNING

The new Air Force chief warned that Russia "soon" may be able to cripple American industry "if the new Soviet long-range air force can deliver (atomic bombs) against the most important targets over here."

Twining said in event of an attack by Russia with its growing atomic stockpiles only the Air Force long-range bombers could hit all the Soviet targets that would have to be hit.

Ike Claims Outer Shelf; Signs Bill

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—President Eisenhower signed the controversial tidelands bill today but said bluntly he opposes giving the coastal states any income or oil rights from submerged lands beyond their historic boundaries.

Mr. Eisenhower signed the legislation—giving the coastal states title to submerged lands from low tide mark to their historic seaward boundaries—as 46 congressmen of both parties looked on.

"ANCIENT RIGHTS"

He said the new act recognizes the "ancient rights of the states in the submerged lands within their historic boundaries." This is three miles seaward except for Texas and west Florida where the limit is 10½ miles.

But Mr. Eisenhower added, offshore lands beyond the historic boundaries "should be administered by the Federal Government and income therefrom should go into the Federal Treasury."

The President made his position clear as coastal state forces waged a new battle in Congress over a follow-up bill providing for development of the outer shelf.

VOICE IN CONTROL

Louisiana and Texas want a voice in administration of the outer continental shelf, a shallow ocean-bottom ledge that extends as far as 150 miles beyond the historic state boundaries. They also want 37½ per cent of the revenues from this area.

Mr. Eisenhower said he was

Youth Drowns In Lake Phoebe Near Group of 10

A 16-year-old Negro, Robert Lee Maddox of 2393 Frances St., Linwood Park, was drowned Friday in Lake Phoebe behind Oglethorpe University while his playmates splashed in water nearby yards away unaware of his plight, DeKalb Police Capt. Harry Christian said.

Maddox and 10 other youths slipped into the lake (which was posted) to go swimming, Captain Christian said. He said Maddox swam around a cove about 60 yards from where his companions were playing. He added they heard his shouts but thought the youth was playing.

When Maddox failed to return, his companions investigated and discovered his body in five feet of water, the DeKalb police officer reported. DeKalb police and Brookhaven firemen attempted to resuscitate the youth for two hours before he was pronounced dead.

Report Holds AF Cutback Sub-Minimum

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Rep. Yorty (D-Calif) asserted today that Secretary of Defense Wilson should resign "and let somebody get in who understands our defense needs."

It was the latest in a mounting series of blasts directed at Wilson by both Democrats and Republicans who are opposed to Wilson's move to cut five billion dollars from Air Force funds in the fiscal year starting July 1.

"The reductions just don't make sense," Yorty said.

"ABSOLUTE MINIMUM"

He was following up an Air Force report which said the cut in funds would leave the Air Force well below the "absolute minimum" for national security.

Yorty read the report into the Congressional Record yesterday. An Air Force spokesman said today it was prepared at Yorty's request in the office of Maj. Gen. Robert E. L. Elton, director of legislative liaison.

The California Democrat made public today a copy of a letter from Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott he said was in response to the report.

"DISAPPOINTED"

In the letter, Talbott said: "The Air Force is disappointed our activities have to be curtailed. I am hopeful that it will not be necessary for us to curtail any fighting aircraft nor curtail our research and development."

"In many cases, we can, I believe," the letter went on, "cut expenses and this we will do no matter what appropriation we receive."

Talbott testified at a closed hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee today. He answered questions about the proposed cuts, but the committee members would not disclose what he said.

Meanwhile, Yorty got out another statement saying, "The threat to our national security inherent in Secretary Wilson's pennywise assault on our air force is too serious

Fire Is Quelled InChemical Plant At Texas City

TEXAS CITY, Tex., May 22—(AP). A small fire of undetermined origin broke out in the sprawling Monsanto Chemical Co. plant here tonight but was extinguished by firemen in 12 minutes.

Police Sgt. W. G Hilliard said there were no injuries and called the damage "minor."

This Gulf Coast industrial town was the scene of a great disaster April 16, 1947, when a nitrate-laden French freighter, the Grandcamp exploded as it was being loaded here. Hours later, another freighter, the SS High Flyer, blew up, adding to the toll of dead and injured. There were 512 persons killed and 3,000 injured. Property damage totaled 50 million dollars.

The Monsanto plant was among industries ripped and torn.

Kemper Hits Girls School Stories, Asks Tax on Liquor Advertising

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Blaming Atlanta newspapers for creating a "crisis" at the Georgia Training School for Girls, State Welfare Director Alan Kemper Friday proposed a tax on newspaper liquor advertising to finance improvements at the school.

At the same time he announced he would run for the Legislature next year in order to introduce such a tax bill and offered to resign if the current situation at the school has in any way embarrassed Governor Talmadge.

Recent escapes and disclosure that hair-clipping was used as a disciplinary measure resulted in a flurry of criticism of and investigations at the institution, which is operated under the State Welfare Department.

Mrs. Betty Talmadge, wife of the governor, visited the school Wednesday.

Kemper released a formal statement of his intention to run for the Legislature next year, along with copies of a letter to Governor Talmadge and one to members of the present Legislature.

Governor Talmadge, when asked for comment, said he had not had a chance to study the situation fully but expressed full confidence in the welfare director.

"Judge Kemper has done a wonderful job as director of public welfare for Georgia," he said. "I am perfectly satisfied with the way he has performed his duties."

In his formal statement, the welfare director said money is a problem at the girls school.

"It is my intention to be a member of the General Assembly when it is organized in January, 1955. At that time I will have prepared . . . a bill to tax whisky advertisements appearing in the State of Georgia and also amend the appropriation bill . . . to provide that a sum equal to the amount realized on this tax shall be spent on improvements for the Georgia Training School for Girls."

In his letter to the governor, he charged former Ohio Gov. James M. Cox, owner of the Atlanta papers, with seeking to force his resignation through "a propaganda campaign against" the girls training school.

To present members of the Legislature, Kemper wrote asking for support of his proposed liquor advertising tax, and declared:

"In my opinion whisky is to a large extent responsible for many of these girls being at this institution since their parents in many instances are the victims of alcoholism. In my opinion, if whisky is responsible for this situation then whisky should foot the bill."

Cars Hurt 10 Children; Police Ask Supervision

Traffic police Friday appealed to parents for closer supervision of youngsters on the streets, pointing out that 10 children were among 14 persons injured in automobile accidents within a 12-hour period. Seven of the 10 were pedestrians.

Three children, all 10 years of age or younger, were struck down in a 50-minute period from 3:20 p. m. until 4:10 p. m.

Most seriously injured were James Reagin Wall Jr., 10, of 22 Anniston Ave., S. E., struck by a car at Boulevard Dr. and Woodbine Ave., S. E., and Muriel Pera Gordon, 8, of 1572 N. Morningside Dr., N. E., hit while crossing East Rock Springs Rd. en route to the Morningside School.

Both children received head injuries and cuts and bruises, police said.

Hit by a car on Lake Ave., Richard Kenneth Wade, 9, of 850 Virgil St., N. E., was treated at Grady Hospital for injuries to the face, back and head. Danny Lester Morton, 6, of 533 Central Ave., S. E., hit by a car on Pryor St. near Richardson, S. W., was admitted to Grady with a broken right leg.

Jimmy Wayne Campbell, 8, of 1075 Boulevard, S. E., struck by a car on Boulevard near Hamilton St., S. E., was treated at Grady for abrasions of the head. Willie Edward Robinson, 3, of 619 Pryor St., S. W., escaped with cuts and bruises when struck by a truck at Pryor St. and Georgia Avenue.

Two were treated at Grady for

Storms Batter Midwest, Cause Fatal Plane Crash

Louisiana-Texas Flood Loss Passes $2-Million Mark

By The Associated Press

Violent spring storms lashed parts of the Midwest Friday, killing two persons, injuring at least a dozen, wrecking buildings and homes and causing damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

Floodwaters caused by spring downpours forced hundreds of additional families to flee their homes on the Texas-Louisiana border and sent damage past the two million dollar mark.

In Iowa, a violent wind and electrical storm was blamed for the crash of a C-46 passenger plane which plunged to earth and burned 16 miles east of Des Moines. The only two aboard, the pilot and co-pilots, were killed.

MIDWEST STORMS

Illinois, Indiana and Ohio bore the brunt of the Midwest storms which struck a few hours after tornadoes ripped across the Michigan-Canadian border, killing at least five persons.

The winds knocked down trees, snapped power and telephone lines and blocked highways with debris.

At Watseka, Ill., about 70 miles south of Chicago, the wind snatched a school bus from the road and dropped it upside down in a field 300 feet away. The driver and single girl passenger were injured seriously.

Three persons were injured near Martinton, in northeast Illinois, when their home was wrenched from its foundations and dropped on its side.

HEAVY HAIL

Hail piled up to a depth of 6 inches near Delphi, Ind., and in the adjoining strip of Illinois.

At least seven persons were injured in the Illinois storm and five in Indiana.

Winds caused an estimated $50,000 damage at the small Ohio communities of Greenford and New Albany.

Louisiana troopers increased their patrols after a suggestion by officials in nearby Orange, Tex., that dynamiting U. S. Highway 90 would release dangerous flood waters threatening Orange.

BLASTING DANGEROUS

Capt. Jerome Haas of the Louisiana state police said the escaping water of the swollen Calcasieu River could destroy large portions of the highway and that blasting by unskilled workers could be dangerous.

The river crested Friday, but backwaters continued to inch upward. Strong southerly winds blew in from the Gulf of Mexico, which, coupled with the rising backwaters, may prolong the flood and cause additional property damage.

More than 5,400 Louisiana families have been driven from their homes, nine persons have lost their lives, and damages have been estimated over the one hundred million dollar mark, since the flood crisis started.

Freezing temperatures chilled the West Central States. Reno, Nev., had a low of 32 and Landers, Wyo., and Butte, Mont., 31.

Showers and thundershowers extended from the Rockies to New England. Fair and warm weather prevailed in the Gulf states.

Aces Fear Lecturing Duties, Flight Home

TOKYO, May 22—(AP)—The two top American jet aces, with a combined total of 30 Soviet-built MIGs to their credit, admitted today they feared enemy guns less than the prospect of lecturing in the United States.

Capt. Joseph McConnell, 31, of Apple Valley, Calif., and Capt. Manuel J. (Pete) Fernandez, 27, of Miami, Fla., confided also that they were "slightly nervous" about flying home in a four-engined transport with another pilot at the controls.

Nationalists Halted 59 Arms Ships

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Fifty-nine ships carrying strategic materials to Red Chinese ports were intercepted by the Nationalist Chinese Navy between August, 1949, and September, 1952, the Central Chinese News Agency reported today.

The report quoted an official statement from Chiang Kai-shek's Ministry of Defense.

It said 31 of the intercepted ships were of British registry, 12 of Communist Chinese origin, nine under Panamanian registry and two of Norwegian registry. Five were unidentified.

Assistant counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate permanent investigating subcommittee told the group Wednesday in Washington that British-owned ships have been hauling Chinese Communist troops.

The British Information Service, in replying to the charge today, said no evidence was produced to back up the charge.

Skies Clear, Planes Blister Red Targets

TOKYO, Saturday, May 23—(AP). Allied warplanes roared into clearing skies today and broke a one-day lull in the air war with a series of blistering raids against North Korean targets.

Fifth Air Force raiders and planes from U. S. Navy carriers, which were unable to launch a single air attack Friday because of bad weather, threw heavy rocket and bomb assaults against the Communist war machine this morning.

The rain - drenched battlefront saw little action during the night. Allied and Communist forces crouched in muddy bunkers all day yesterday, peering through rain across no-man's-land and sending out only light patrols in most sectors.

Proposed T-H Changes Buck Ike, CIO Says

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The CIO hit out at a series of proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley law today, saying they run "directly counter" to President Eisenhower's campaign pledges.

The first union reaction to the proposed amendments anounced by Chairman Smith (Rep., N. J.) of the Senate labor committee came from Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel to the CIO.

He told a news conference:

"Instead of carrying out President Eisenhower's campaign pledge to rid the present law of 'union busting' features, this bill would add many more 'union busting' provisions.

"This runs directly counter to the President's assurance of fairness and justice in our labor law."

Smith announced the proposed amendments yesterday. He said they were framed by a staff of experts working for the labor committee and that they did not necessarily represent a Republican program.

But, he said, the proposals weren't written until after the Republicans on the committee had met and discussed them.

The key proposal was an amendment to permit the National Labor Relations board to give the states jurisdiction in certain labor disputes.

Under the Taft-Hartley law, nearly all labor disputes come under federal jurisdiction.

The proposed amendment would give the states authority to decide who should represent employes at a plant and to regulate "the rights to engage in strikes, lockouts or picketing."

Perl Convicted Of Perjury in A-Spy Case

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, May 22—William Perl, one of the nation's leading experts on jet propulsion, was convicted in federal court here today on two of four counts of perjury.

A jury of 11 men and a woman found after a little more than four hours of deliberation that the 34-year-old physicist had knowingly and deliberately lied to a federal grand jury in 1950, when he said he did not "know" Julius Rosenberg and Morton Sobell, convicted atom spies.

The jury recommended clemency on each count and acquitted Perl on two other counts, involving his alleged acquaintance with three lesser figures in the original espionage inquiry. Perl was remanded without bail for sentence on June 5.

AF Returns Ex-GI To Korea for Trial

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The Air Force disclosed tonight that it has arrested Robert W. Toth of Pittsburgh, a former Air Force man, to return him to Korea to stand trial on the charge of slaying a South Korean.

The Air Force said it was the first case of a former member of the armed forces being returned to military custody under the uniform code of military justice. It said the code authorizes such action. Toth was arrested May 13.

Natural Gas Price Power Ruled FPC

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals ruled today that the Federal Power Commission has authority to regulate prices charged by thousands of natural gas producers who sell in interstate commerce.

The 2 to 1 decision, if upheld by the Supreme Court in the event of an appeal, could affect millions of consumers using natural gas. The appeals court overthrew a ruling by the FPC itself and upheld views expressed by former President Truman some two years ago.

The case specifically involved Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Okla., one of the nation's largest natural gas producers. But according to FPC statistics, about 2,300 other companies are in the same classification.

An FPC spokesman said future commission action will depend on whether Phillips appeals to the Supreme Court. If the decision is not appealed, he said he assumed the commission will start hearings on all pending as rate increases.

Ernest W. Jones, Phillips' attorney, said only that " we are studying the opinion." The appeals court said the high court "repeatedly" has ruled that firms such as Phillips are subject to federal regulation.

Pa. Woman Has Second Daughter 9 Days After Giving Birth to First

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 22 — (INS) — A Sandy Lake woman gave birth early today to her second daughter, nine days after the birth of the first, in a rare case of double pregnancy and double birth which physicians reckon is a one in five million occurrence.

She is Mrs. Joseph Saeler, 29, who returned to Grove City Hospital last night to await birth of baby No. 2, Pamela, who weighed five pounds, six ounces.

The first child, Patricia Ann, was born May 13. She weighed six pounds, four ounces.

Medical terminologists now must decide whether Patricia Ann and Pamela are twins. Dr. Fennell said they are the same as non-identical or double egg twin. The couple has three other children.

Does Caterpillar Have Legs? Pest Fight Is Waiting

TELSCOMBE, Eng., May 22 (AP)—Does a caterpillar have legs? Is it a pest?

Residents of this village want the answers to those questions because they are caught up in a tangle of bureaucracy and a plague of caterpillars. For two weeks caterpillars have been swarming over houses, dropping down chimneys, climbing through windows, even crawling over sleeping babies.

The pest officer—he kills the village's rats and mice—says he's out of the picture—deals only with pests having legs. The health authorities say they can't help because caterpillars aren't listed on any proper government pest list.

Telscombe villagers rather testily note that naturalists say a caterpillar does have legs—16 of them—and they are ready to testify themselves that caterpillars are a pest—government list or no.

The sole remedy thus far is the broom of the housewife.

U. S. Will Arm, Train Ethiopians

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—United States agreed today to provide military equipment and training aid to Ethiopia's armed forces.

Under terms of the agreement, the United States will send a military advisory group to help train Ethiopian forces and to observe the use made of American aid.

WHY SUFFER?

There is at least a threefold reason for worldly suffering, explains Charles L. Allen in his column on Page 4.

France's Auriol Launches Hunt for New Premier

PARIS, May 22—(AP)—President Vincent Auriol consulted steadily with familiar figures of French politics today as he sought a new Premier to form the nation's 19th government since the liberation of 1944.

Former premiers, political party chiefs and the heads of the two chambers of Parliament called at the Elysee Palace—the French White House—in an almost continuous relay. The President talked with each of them for 20 to 40 minutes.

Mostly, Auriol was just listening. He took the suggestions of names and heard what each man and party thinks should be done. There was one exception. He did not call in the Communists, as he usually does as a courtesy. The Communists always are in opposition. No one else will have them in a coalition and they can't form a cabinet by themselves.

It was believed the President might wait until tomorrow night before picking a candidate to succeed Premier Rene Mayer, whose cabinet was tossed out yesterday on a vote of confidence over a financial issue.

One report was that Auriol might first call on former Premier Paul Reynaud to form a "national union" cabinet. Few believed, however, that Reynaud, an Independent Republican, could succeed.

Polish MIG Sent To Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, May 22—(AP)—A Soviet-designed MIG-15 jet fighter in which a Polish air force pilot flew to freedom Wednesday, today was loaded aboard a ship at Bornhold Island to be brought to Copenhagen for further examination.

Pilot Zdzislaw Jazwenski was questioned again today by Danish intelligence officers on his request for political asylum.

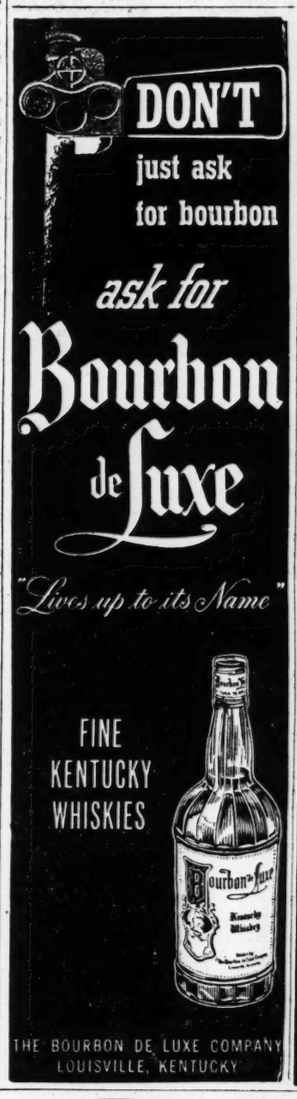

GOP Office Shift To Save Money

WASHINGTON, May 22 — (AP) — The economy-minded Republican National Committee announced plans today to save some of its own money.

Party headquarters, now spread through two office buildings with some overflow into a hotel, will be moved next month to the second floor of the Cafritz Building.

ADA Changes Its Tune; Assails Ike's Leadership

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The Americans for Democratic Action, whose leaders in 1948 were clamoring for an Eisenhower presidential nomination, warmed up their annual convention today with an attack on Eisenhower as president.

They scored what they called his "lack of leadership." They demanded that he do something about "McCarthyism." They criticized defense spending cuts and called on the President to halt what they called a trend away from "tested conservation policies" regarding the nation's mineral resources.

DENOUNCES 'McCARTHYISM'

One suggestion made to combat methods employed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was that the President have "administration senators" counter McCarthy's speeches on the Senate floor and ask the Internal Revenue Bureau to investigate the senator's income tax.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., ADA vice chairman and history professor at Harvard University, made that suggestion at a news conference held jointly with Francis Biddle, ADA national chairman and former Democratic attorney general.

CITES FDR'S TACTICS

Schlesinger said the late Franklin D. Roosevelt employed the counterspeech and tax probe methods in his battles with the late Sen. Huey Long of Louisiana and "thus reduced" Long's strength in Washington.

"If Eisenhower did that," Schlesinger added, "McCarthy would be as isolated and impotent in Washington as Long was."

The ADA was formed six years ago to advance the cause of "progressive" principles of the Roosevelt brand. It still is made up almost entirely of Democrats, but officially asserts its political independence of either party. Biddle says it has about 30,000 dues-paying members.

Gen. Navarre, Staff Escape Red Gunfire

HANOI, Indochina, May 22—(AP)—Gen. Henri Navarre, new French supreme commander in Indochina, and his senior staff officers narrowly escaped an air disaster today when their plane was damaged by Communist Viet Minh anti-aircraft fire.

The pilot of the America-built Dakota brought the riddled plane with one of its two engines smashed by the Red fire across some 40 miles of enemy-held jungle to a safe landing at the besieged French Thai Bastion of Nasan.

A French spokesman said Navarre was on a "secret flight" over the dense jungles encircling the Red River delta where strong elements of two Communist divisions are moving toward Hanoi.

SOUTHERN FEDERAL PRESENTS

GROWING WITH ATLANTA AND GEORGIA

SOUTHERN FEDERAL SALUTES
THE AMERICAN SECRETARY
all week—May 24-30

In 1952 the nation's business men, in conjunction with the National Secretaries Association, instituted National Secretaries' Week. It's purpose: "To honor the American secretary upon whose skills, loyalty and efficiency the functions of business and Government offices depend."

The purpose of the National Secretaries Association is devoted primarily to the ideal improvement of the Secretarial profession. It is designed to augment the interests of this profession, to help each member broaden her education, to heighten her skill and intelligence, and to enhance the charm of her personality; in a word, to secure to every member the fullest measure of her rights, her privileges, her opportunities, her responsibilities, and her success; as a private person, as a loyal citizen; and as a professional career woman.

The Atlanta Chapter of National Secretaries Association, as well as other Chapters in Georgia, asks that every business man join in this salute to the American Secretary.

Johannesburg Racial Edict Would Relocate 100,000

Decision To Separate People Made Under Malan Pressure

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

JOHANNESBURG, May 22—At least 100,000 persons—the majority Africans—will be uprooted and moved to new areas in the racial relocation of Johannesburg, South Africa's largest city, under a provisional decision of the city council made under pressure from the Malan government.

The pattern of dividing Johannesburg into white, Negro and yellow racial zones will be repeated in all South African cities and towns under the Group Areas Act, which is the cornerstone of Prime Minister Malan's apartheid (segregation) policy and over which India has indicted South Africa at the United Nations.

The government has warned that if municipalities don't produce plans for separating the races residentially it will impose its own plans.

The Johannesburg group areas plan was adopted in broad outline today by a city council committee and will come before full council next week. It then goes before various government advisory boards before finally becoming law.

One councillor said today: "We are unhappy about the business. Whatever we might have decided would have been unpopular, for the Group Areas Act involves tremendous changes in the lives of thousands of people."

The most worried are Johannesburg's 22,000 Asians, a large percentage of whom own prosperous shops in the business area and fear eventual eviction to beyond the city limits.

Racial zoning of the city includes the removal of about 70,000 Negroes from "black spots" in the western white suburbs to a new location 15 miles outside the city.

GIs, Brass Set To Test A-Cannon

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 22. (AP)—Hundreds of staff officers and more than 2,000 troops today swarmed over the Frenchman Flat atomic test site completing preparations for the world's first firing of an atomic cannon shell Monday.

The Department of Defense disclosed the blast would be witnessed by approximately 575 staff officers, including many high-ranking generals, and 2,400 troops from foxholes 4,500 yards from the target area.

The huge cannon brought here from Ft. Sill, Okla., will be about seven miles away from the detonation area when it fires the atomic shell, it was learned. The shell was expected to detonate at an altitude of about 500 feet.

More than 100 congressmen are expected to arrive this week end to witness the explosion of the atomic shell and the troop maneuver to be held in conjunction with the firing.

END OF THE TRAIL—TUCSON, Ariz., May 22—Two Mexican orphans, Ricardo Perez-Villalobos, 10, left, and his brother, Porfirio, 13, were to be deported today after they hiked 900 miles from the interior of Mexico in a vain search for an uncle in Arizona. They were picked up near here when Porfirio asked a deputy sheriff for a job.

Egypt Okays Mediation on Suez Zone

By KINGSBURY SMITH

PARIS, May 22—(INS)—Egyptian Premier Naguib indicated today his government would "welcome" mediation of the Anglo-Egyptian dispute over the Suez Canal zone by an outside power.

In a telegraphic statement to International News Service, Naguib refused to declare flatly whether the Italian government would be acceptable as mediator. At the same time, however, he expressed no outright objection to Italian intervention.

Naguib was asked:

"In view of the fact that Italy is a friendly nation playing an important role in Mediterranean affairs, do you believe the Egyptian people would welcome anything Premier de Gasperi could do to bring about a peaceful and satisfactory settlement of the Anglo-Egyptian dispute over the Canal zone?"

He replied:

"The Egyptian people welcome any move from the outside which would contribute to attaining their rights, the unconditional evacuation of foreign (British) troops and complete independence."

Egypt and Britain have been negotiating off and on for more than a year on the future status of the zone.

Americus Plane Chases 'Saucer'

AMERICUS, May 22—(AP)—A silver, saucer-shaped object flashed across the skies over Americus today, excited several hundred townspeople and lured an editor and a photographer into chasing it by plane.

The plane, carrying Managing Editor Rudy Hayes of the Americus Times-Recorder and a cameraman, lost sight of the mysterious object over Cordele, about 30 miles west of here.

Robbed Bank To Avert Penury for Widow

ELK RIVER, Minn., May 22. (INS)—A 69-year-old key maker said today he robbed an Elk River bank of $6,600 because he was afraid he would die soon and didn't want to leave his wife without money.

Clifford C. Baughman of Anoka, Minn., signed a confession last night declaring he held up the bank of Elk River yesterday knowing he had a bad heart and would soon die. He told police:

"I needed the money for my wife and figured the time to strike was now if I was ever going to."

All $6,600 was found stored in a plastic bag alongside a nearby creek a few hours after the robbery.

Red Terrorist Leader Slain In Malaya

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

SINGAPORE, May 22—Nine Communist terrorists have been killed in the Malayan Federation in the past 24 hours. These include six killed by Gurkhas in North Perak this afternoon. Among the six killed in North Perak was Kong Pak, alias Cheong Ong Piew, who held the rank of district committee member and also was political commissar of the third platoon of the 12th terrorist regiment.

Kong Pak, a Chinese aged 35 to 40, was formerly a member of the Malayan Peoples Anti-Japanese Army and a Communist Party member of long standing who went into the jungle at the outbreak of the emergency. He was the most important terrorist operating in the Leggong area of Grik, in Perak state. According to an official statement, those who served under him described him as arrogant and ruthless. The statement added, "The loss of Kong Pak is another severe blow to the terrorists in Perak."

$8 Million Building Fund Embroils North Baptists

DENVER, May 22—(AP)—American Baptists became embroiled today at their annual convention in a debate over a proposed $8,000,000 church expansion fund.

A vote on the issue was postponed. The program committee of the 46th annual meeting of the Northern group of Baptists was directed to find room in the program for later debate and a vote before the convention's end Tuesday.

Representatives from Ohio, West Virginia and California were among the leading opponents to the proposed building fund. They expressed doubt the goal of eight million could be reached. Some said they felt a successful building program might leave the denomination with "plenty of buildings but no preachers."

Theron Chastain, executive secretary of the Home Mission Society, had pleaded for the building fund in a major convention address. He said shifts in the population had presented "our God-given opportunity" for Evangelism. The fund has been proposed to construct 324 new churches, mostly in the West.

In an interview, Dr. Harry Dillin, president of the Oregon Baptist Convention, stressed the importance of church-related and independent colleges. Dillin, president of Linfield College at McMinnville, Ore., said those types of institutions educate nearly 50 per cent of the young people in the United States.

He said the independent college "creates a stability and balance with what I call government education. If we did not have have, there would be greater opportunity for the growth of 'isms' through a state system."

Defense Questions Must Be Answered

The examination by Congress and the nation of the cutbacks in the defense program should result in a clearer understanding of the needs. As regrettable as it is that we must completely bare our strength and our proposed strength to the Kremlin, it seems inevitable.

In that connection, by the way, Pravda recently revealed that we have exactly 12 Sabrejets patroling the West German frontier, so our military progress will probably be no surprise to them.

No one can blame Congress and the people for trying to get at the truth of whether more defense can be had with less in the face of warnings by established military authorities that it just isn't so.

They seek the answer, too, to Sen. Stuart Symington's question about whether the basic decision is due to campaign promises or whether it is based on a sure knowledge of Soviet power and intentions. The capable former Secretary of the Air Force voiced the anxieties of all American citizens, anxieties now echoed by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and others, when he asked:

How many long-range submarines do the Russians have and will have; how many long-range bombers; how many jet fighters; how many atomic bombs; how many divisions of foot soldiers; what are the potentials of the Soviet Union and her satellites; and how fast are the Reds preparing for all-out war?

The American people have shown themselves willing to support whatever structure is necessary for the nation's defenses. They are now being asked to have faith that the new theory of "more for less" will work out. Certainly they have every reason to question the new approach in view of all the warnings.

Solvency is a desirable thing, but an atomic war from which we are unable to defend ourselves is a prospect even more frightening than an unbalanced budget.

The whole problem needs to be approached with an open mind not colored by partisan considerations. National security is not a matter of parties.

States Move Forward On School Problems

How are the states doing in meeting their educational problems without federal aid?

Fine, says the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, which reports that expenditures for operation of school systems increased 88 per cent in the nation during the period from 1945 to 1951.

Total operating expenditures are listed as $2,707,000,000 in the 1945-46 school year compared with $5,084,000,000 in the 1950-51 school year. Average expenditures per pupil rose in the same period from $136 to $244 or 65 per cent.

Georgia's percentage increase in school appropriations during the period was 130, exceeded only by Florida and Louisiana in the Southeast.

The statistics show that the states are making every effort to meet their schools' needs. They do not prove, however, that the needs have been met. Inflation accounted in part for the necessity for increased appropriations, inflated money and an inflated birth rate. Whether the two have been kept in balance in school appropriations is open to doubt.

Certainly the school problem has not been completely solved. We are, however, encouraged, as is the State Council of Chambers of Commerce, by the states' willingness to work at its solution.

To the Victor Belongs The Responsibility, Too

The President made what might be called a tactical error in placing the blame for what he called "a critically unsound state of financial affairs" on the past administration and the Democrats. He is now about to reap his reward.

Resentful Democrats, upon whom the administration must rely to get approval for Ike's tax program, don't intend to get blamed for any continuation of a "critically unsound state of affairs" and have decided to let the Republicans carry the ball.

On the proposal to extend the excess profits tax, for instance, the Democrats say: "The time has come for us to quit pulling the President's chestnuts out of the fire. Republican committee members will have to carry the ball on this one."

This is a proper decision. It is a GOP party problem. The Democrats have been patriotic and nonpartisan in supporting the President in other matters. But, it was a Democratic House which voted to let the excess profits tax die on June 30, and to bring about a reduction of personal income taxes on Jan. 1. It was the GOP which said the tax was indefensible and would be among the many taxes reduced once their efficient operation eliminated waste, inefficiency and spending and thereby made possible lower taxes and a balanced budget.

Taking a look at the situation, the administration has come to the conclusion that it cannot stop spending—as did Truman. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey gave the reason simply: "We cannot balance the budget because it would endanger national security." It would have been better to let it stand at that.

No Profit in War, Ben Fairless Proves

Remarks the other day by Benjamin Fairless give the lie to propaganda that American big business profits from war.

Mr. Fairless pointed out that his concern "has never prospered from America's participation in war" and he proved his point. Three times during this century U. S. Steel has had to change from peacetime production to help furnish the tools of war.

Each time the company has had to expand production enormously, not in keeping with normal expansion but to meet the needs of the nation. Payrolls, taxes and controls increased. In each case increased costs and greatly increased capital expenditures reduced profits.

The steel executive pointed out that U. S. Steel's profits in 1941 were $116,000,000. After Pearl Harbor they began dropping and in 1942 were only $71,000,000 and in 1945 were $58,000,000. After the war profits climbed again to $215,000,000 in 1950. By 1952, these had dropped to $143,000,000.

In the meantime, the long-time capital investment will make it difficult for the company to recover its money should lean times occur. Since 1940, its employment costs have risen 155 per cent and its payments for goods and services have jumped 138 per cent. Prices of steel, Mr. Fairless pointed out, have increased only 87 per cent. Taxes for the first quarter of 1953 were twice as much as the stockholders earned.

What is true for U. S. Steel is true for most companies. There is no profit in war.

Let the Supreme Court Review the 'Giveaway'

In Washington yesterday President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed the compromise tidelands oil bill, and put careful emphasis on the fact that he thought the area outside the "historic" limits should belong to and be administered by the Federal Government.

We assume, and hope, there will be a test of the law which may, or may not, be constitutional. It was our theory that since the known, and estimated, sources of oil are plentiful, that the former administration was right in describing the offshore oil as national reserves, necessary for the national future. That made sense to us. And still does.

That three or four states should be allowed to have possession of these reserves seems compatible with the argument of "states' rights," which history reveals has never once been raised except in behalf of a special interest.

The President seemed a little apologetic in his emphatic and lengthy explanation that he will insist on the nation having what is left, if anything is, beyond the "historic limits."

Let's have another look by the Supreme Court.

Congress Debates Election Changes

WASHINGTON—After much delay committees of the House and Senate are getting around to consideration of proposed constitutional amendments changing the systems under which we nominate and elect presidents and vice-presidents of the United States. There has been some agitation on the subject for years.

Any number of resolutions are pending. They vary in scope from getting rid of our outmoded electoral college to abolishing the national convention method of nominating candidates for the two top-ranking elective offices in the land.

Attention has been focused on an amendment sponsored by political conventions and substitute a system of direct primaries for nominating presidential candidates.

Under his proposal preferential primaries would be held in all states the same day, with voters given the right to say who the candidates of their party for president and vice-president should be. The government would bear the cost of such primaries.

At present only 16 states hold such primaries and not all are binding. Former President Truman called them so much "eyewash" in the last preconvention campaign, it is recalled. He was not far wrong.

Smathers has described the methods used at the national convention last year as "inefficient, archaic and disgraceful," declaring the nomination of presidential candidates should be taken out of the hands of "a few haggling, ambitious backroom barons."

But while critics of the old system have protested for years Congress has never done anything about it. Nearest it has come to submitting an amendment was a few years ago when former Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge gained Senate approval of a proposal to do away with the electoral college as it is presently constituted.

It would have left the states with their electoral votes as at present but provided that they be allotted to presidential candidates "proportionately" instead of giving the entire state block to the candidate with the majority of votes.

The Lodge amendment passed the Senate by the necessary two-thirds vote but never reached the House for a final vote. Efforts will be made to revive it again this session, along with the Smathers proposal to abandon the convention system of arriving at presidential nominations.

Despite strong support of the amendments many seasoned observers are doubtful of action forthcoming during the present session. One reason is that both Republicans and Democrats in 1952 nominated two of the best qualified men to offer for president in years despite the cumbersome convention method.

Mrs. Horton Gets A Shabby Deal

WASHINGTON—Never was a speech so timely as that in which Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court deplored the "witch trial" atmosphere that we have permitted to develop in our country, and against which he called upon his fellow lawyers in the American Law Institute to start a crusade.

"We deprive men of jobs and destroy their reputations with practices as callous as those involved in the trial of Sir Walter Raleigh; and we traffic in hysteria almost as acute as the atmosphere surrounding the witch trials," he said.

The same day he spoke there began to unfold, bit by bit, the story of Mrs. Mildred McAfee Horton, wartime head of the Waves, former president of Wellesley College, who was selected to represent her government on the United Nations social and economic commission, but then was denied the post under almost unbelievable circumstances that echoed exactly what Justice Douglas had said.

She became entangled in the devious investigative process now required in checking on the loyalty of all persons appointed to government posts. The State department, in advising her that her appointment was being withheld, assured her there was no question of her personal loyalty, regretted the embarrassment she had been caused, and said it had not intended any embarrassment.

Here is a chronology, including some aspects not previously disclosed:

Mrs. Horton's appointment to the UN commission was recommended by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the Eisenhower cabinet.

Her recommendation was accepted, and the State department asked the FBI for an investigation of the wartime head of the Waves and distinguished educator, the usual routine.

The State department did not complete its own "evaluation" of the FBI material until two days before the commission was to meet and then decided not to send up the appointment at all. The explanation from one State department official was that it was decided not to submit the nomination because there would not be time for confirmation before the UN commission met.

It is suspected that the State department would have suffered more embarrassment than would she, as it might readily have expected another browbeating from Sen. Joe McCarthy (Rep., Wis.) or someone else, such as it incurred previously in the case of Charles E. Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to Russia.

What a commentary on where we have come when the former head of one of our military branches for women during the war, to whom was entrusted thousands of American girls, and an educator who has had the teaching of so many of our young women, is treated so shabbily!

Fluoride in Water Adds Nothing New To It, Says Public Health Chairman

College Park—The letter by Dr. Copeland concerning fluoridation deserves comment. It is incredible that a man engaged in the healing arts would present to the public erroneous statements and false conclusions involving a health project.

Dr. Copeland referred to an article in the Journal of the American Dental Association concerning fluoride content of drinking water in areas of Texas where the incidence of cavities is markedly low, and says the article concludes that people who live in this area and eat food grown in the same locality do not have decayed teeth, but that those who ingest food shipped in from other sources and who drink the water there, have as much dental caries as anywhere else.

The article makes no such assumption. It stated clearly that the unusually high content of both calcium and phosphorus in the soil and also fluoride content in the drinking water of more than two parts per million synergistically produced the immunity. Ingestion of food grown in the area without benefit of fluoride content in drinking water did not produce low susceptibility.

For those apprehensive about adding fluoride to drinking water, it should be pointed out that fluoridation does not add anything new to water but simply restores the proper amount that is lacking in order to produce the benefit of caries immunity like that described above in certain Texas areas that have drinking water with naturally occurring fluorides.

Better No Tax Reduction Than Inflation, He Thinks

Atlanta — Americans must match the superb courage of their President.

We must become ready for war—and we are not yet. The budget cannot be balanced this year—even with no reduction in taxes. This means we should have a tax increase but will gamble on no reduction. That conclusion cost me perhaps $200 or more this year but the alternative would cost me $500 or more in inflated living costs. Costs of government must be and are being reduced but with proper caution as regards defense items.

Everyone who has studied costs of government knows that the biggest aggregate savings must be made in paring small items on a large scale, eliminating duplicated functions, getting rid of unneeded personnel, etc., but this takes time, particularly when the "company officers and noncoms" of government have been encouraged for over 20 years to spend our money like water.

Some of us bloodthirsty old souls think we should take the initiative away from the Kremlin as advised by MacArthur but, lacking that, the President has offered us the only way out.

JUST A SMALL TAXPAYER.

Tiftonite Sees GOP Trying To Change 'Radical' Trends

Tifton — "Lincoln Republican" writes that restrictions on trade and commerce have put us in the plight we are in, but fails to recognize, by implication, some basic facts that stand as milestones on the road to our present predicament; namely, the Civil War was the triumph of protection over free trade. Slavery was the emotional sideshow to reach those who were unable to get steamed up on the economic issues.

The protectionist tent has been extended to take in other economic groups. Racial groups are the latest applicants for a place under the protectionist tent by means of executive fiat and Supreme Court decisions. Republicans, now beginning to see the evil results of this trend, are desperately trying to head the country in a different direction.

It all adds up, any way you figure it, to centralization, disregard of local rights, bureaucracy and ultimately dictatorship. In the world picture it adds up to trade restrictions, currency controls, endless wars, UNs, and, as a remedy for these evils, the proposal of an oppressive and regimenting world government.

Contention Still Stands: No Person Can Throw a Ball and Make It Hop

NEW YORK—My reflections on the ways of a baseball in flight from the hand of the pitcher have evoked dissent, the gist of which I offer to the sum of human knowledge, superstition and hearsay. My contention is that no man can impart enough backspin to a thrown ball to make it hop.

I am not dealing with the humpbacked, underhand pitch that Carl Mays of the Yankees used to throw, which started at his shanks, rose to a zenith a little past midway and declined as it neared the plate. Whether Mays could give this thing a lateral curve I do not know. I am conjuring a ball that flies straight until it is almost on top of the plate and then jumps in response to (a) pressure from a cushion of air, (b) wind currents, or (c) backspin and friction.

Hank Lieber, now a wealthy rancher and real estate monger in Tucson, speaking with the authority of a majestic record as a hitter with the Giants, insists the hop, or riser, is real. He is a college man with the normal quota of physics.

But he offers no formula, relying instead on his observations and an argument which seems to me shapeless, that the density of air even as between 18 inches and 36 inches above the ground is influential.

R. F. White, of Elmhurst, L. I., says with a tennis ball he can exploit the friction between the fuzz and his first two fingers, applied to the top of the ball, to cause enough backspin to make it hop. The tennis ball is a sucker ball, being very biddable on account of this fuzzy skin, but it will do for this debate. White says no jerk is required in this delivery, throwing straight overhand with the fingers making the ball spin backward.

Like others, he relies heavily on friction of the hide with the air to explain the conduct of a baseball in all its vagaries. But my school claims all curves are caused by impetus of rotation or twist, not friction against air. The heretics invoke friction twice, first with the fingers, then with the air.

Members of the friction school fall back on the well-known phenomenon of the short-iron shot to the green in golf, which arcs high, stops almost dead at the top of its flight and jumps backward on landing.

This leaves unscathed my contention that a man can't throw a ball fast enough to impart enough backspin to make it jump in flight. The force applied to a golf ball is enormously greater and the face of the club is scarred to make the ball spin. And the friction or controlling impulse occurs at impact, not in flight.

What pitcher can throw with comparable force? Bob Feller made a demonstration under scientific conditions which brought in a finding of a speed of between 96 and 105 miles an hour. I have no idea whether that is fast or slow for the purposes of this problem. Nobody ever clocked the initial speed of a wedge shot which eventually kicks back from the point of landing.

Threefold Reason For All Suffering

The father who said to Jesus, "Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief" (Mark 9:24), had a sick boy. He knew the meaning of a heavy heart, of disappointment and frustration. Often the presence of evil in our lives and in our world makes faith difficult. But, in this instance, the evil lead him to a complete faith. Often the pathway of pain leads to God.

Of course, this man might have stayed at home, become more and more bitter. Instead, he went in search of Christ. If you concentrate on your tragedies, it will destroy your belief. On the other hand, the struggle to overcome sorrow and evil is at the same time a struggle to find God.

Many books have been written to explain suffering and there is at least a threefold explanation. First, some suffering is caused by the law-abidingness of the universe. God made certain laws and, if we break them, it hurts us. For example, there is the law of gravitation. If I jump out of a high window I will hurt myself because the law will not be changed just because I do not wish to obey it.

God made certain laws for men to live by. As one man put it, "No one breaks the moral law; he breaks himself but never the law." Much of man's suffering is caused by his disobedience of God.

Second, much of the suffering of the world is brought about because the world is constantly in an evolutionary state. Life is constantly fighting its way. Ignorance, poverty and all the limitations of this life are constantly being fought against and conquered. But the fighting to better ourselves is not easy.

Yet, as we look at man today and trace his progress down through history, we see that gradually the good is overcoming the evil. We are reminded of the words of the hymn, "Though the wrong seems oft so strong, God is the ruler yet." The progress of man is a reason for believing.

We suffer, in the third place, because our lives are intermeshed and interrelated with each other. We are members one of another. If someone else is hurt, it hurts us. That, too, is a reason for believing. Our suffering because of others is proof of brotherhood, and brotherhood is proof of a fatherhood, and that fatherhood is God.

But if you said to me, "What must I believe?" I would not argue intellectual propositions with you. Rather would I tell you to do as the father of the afflicted child did, come and talk to Jesus about it. Accept His friendship as best you understand it. Faith never becomes real until it becomes personal. As John Oxenham put it:

"Not what, but WHOM, I do believe,
That in my darkest hour of need,
Hath comfort that no mortal creed,
To mortal man may give;
Not what but WHOM!"

Bob Considine

No Time To Get Penny Wise Now

NEW YORK—We, who have been so pound foolish in so many ways, are trying to be penny wise in the one department of UN in which we have gotten our money's worth — UN's International Emergency Children's Fund.

One of our people at UN announced the other day that we have not decided whether the work should continue this year, but he gave no hint as to what will become of 60,000,000 needy children throughout the world.

I can give a hint: They and their families will fall prey to Moscow's International Conference in Defence of Children.

By no arm of UN has the Communist cause throughout the world been hurt more than by the emergency children's fund, called UNICEF. In its few short years of operation it has become universally popular. It is the only UN agency that reaches the common people. In places as separated as the Philippines, Greece, Brazil and Indonesia, UNICEF is a word well known among people who never heard of UN.

The Russians would not contribute to UNICEF when it was first proposed. But the thing began doing so much good the Kremlin had to do something to try to counteract its influence.

Last year in Vienna, a group of their bleeding hearts gathered, formed the Conference in Defence of Children, expressed great concern for the world's underprivileged kids and finished the meeting by drawing up a resolution accusing the United States of killing Korean and Chinese youngsters in bacteriological warfare.

The Commies declared that hereafter June 1 would be "World Children's Day." You can be certain they will pull out all stops in hope of presenting themselves to the world as protectors of the needy immature.

If the U. S. turns its back on UNICEF the organization is likely to die. If it dies, millions of families in 70 countries will feel abandoned. And, by and large, will eagerly listen when the Reds step in and say, in effect, "Come to us, kids, we love you even if the wicked Americans don't."

How stupid can we get?

An Uppercut to the Vanity

They still can't make up their minds about Jersey Joe and his intent.

I'm just in from an intensive period of prize fight readings, both advance authoritative views on Mr. Cream's recent altercation with Rocky Marciano in Chicago, and post-mortems on same. There appears to have been a rash of redecorated points of view between Friday afternoon, May 15, and Saturday morning, May 16.

Bisher

that he lost his heavyweight title to Joe Louis on June 22, 1937. "It might not go 10."

There isn't much basis for the flurry of switched opinions, except that Marciano lasted the first round and Walcott didn't. Frankly, I believe that so many of the journalists took a harsh view of the brief affair because their ideas on the matter were knocked slightly cockeyed in less than three minutes. They were caught with their predictions up, their alibis down and one could only feel that he had been double-crossed in such a matter. One who lives by his predictions, that is.

Journalists were not exclusive in this field. I have here before me a few interesting observations made on the eve of the gumming by men renowned in this field of financial nose-crushing.

"I like the old guy," said Jim Braddock, who has a dim memory of Chicago himself. It was there

"You mean Walcott could knock Rocky out?" somebody asked the ex-champ.

"Sure," he said confidently. "Marciano's a sucker for a right hand."

You get the notion that Braddock must be a sucker for an old man, or else the gent has forgotten what a good right resembles. At any rate, the journalists should hardly feel bitter. Here's a guy who should know what goes on inside the ring. He was as wrong as anybody.

—A Man Who Says Joe Was Yellow

I hereby take the oath not to write hereafter of this cozy little nubbing they had out on Lake Michigan. But I am deeply impressed by the odd collection of aftermath before me. I am inclined to wonder if these people saw the same fight, or if some of the gentry didn't arrive late and spoke only to a relative of the television sponsor.

One writer charged that Walcott turned yellow. This was Jimmy (New York Post) Cannon, who called on Jersey Joe's original manager, a fellow named Vic Marsillo.

"I used to calm him down reading the Bible to him in the dressing room," Marsillo said. "You never know what Joe'll do when he starts thinking about what Marciano did to him the last time."

If this be the character of the man who won the title at the age of 37, then how has it evaded public attention so long in 23 years of fighting? How is it no searching reporter has never turned up the fact?

Joe (New York World-Telegram) Williams says he's sure Walcott didn't quit. Reason: He was in for 30 per cent of the 3-D films, which had a million-dollar potential. A one-round knockout knocked that in the head.

—Boxing Smelled Many Years Before

This often acid agent had further reason, I should add. Makes me wonder if he hasn't switched from venom to ink these days.

"If that had been the point at which he intended to chuck it," Williams wrote, "he would have taken elaborate pains to make it look authentic. My point of view was not the best, for the IBC had graciously arranged a seat for me behind a 3-D camera. But, standing, I was able to get a clear picture of Walcott as he walked on quivering legs to his corner, and he was still out on his feet."

Canno.i bores on in the opposite direction. "The Rocky Marciano-Walcott fight was a hoax. It was one of the most disgraceful charades ever promoted in a sport that's rotten with deceit. He (Walcott) sat there, apparently enjoying the rest and allowed Frank Sikora, the referee, to count him out."

And both authors were there. Or at least their expense accounts will show that they were.

I have no patience with the sanctimonious howlers who have the gall to point at the "great wound" the fight inflicted on boxing. Joe Louis was one, he who has more one-round title defenses on his record than any champ that ever breathed a lungful of gymnasium air.

Boxing smelled a long time before Jersey Joe got cooled in Chicago. It smelled last week, and the week before. It smelled last month, and the month before. It has smelled for years, and always will, as long as such an autocracy as the International Boxing Club is allowed to run the business from smokers to TV commitments.

Soggy Preakness in Prospect For Native Dancer, Dark Star

Seven Colts Sharp for 77th Running Of $100,000-Added Event at Pimlico

BALTIMORE, May 22—(AP)—Rain Friday turned Pimlico's racing strip into a gooey mass of mud with the prospect of an "off" track for Native Dancer, Dark Star and five other colts in the 77th edition of the $100,000-added Preakness Stakes.

The weatherman promised some sunshine for Saturday, however, and unless there is heavy, continuing rain through tonight the track condition should be no worse than "good" when the seven three year-olds break from the gate at 4:45 p. m. (EST).

The candidates were out in the sticky mud Friday morning, all in top trim for one of the most controversial Preakness races since it was invented in 1873.

Dark Star, Cain Hoy Stable colt who upset Alfred Vanderbilt's Native Dancer in the Kentucky Derby May 2, traveled half a mile in 48 seconds soon after a heavy thunderstorm swept the track. Native Dancer came out later for a leisurely two-mile gallop. He had worked a sensational three-quarters Friday in 1:11 3-5.

There was talk of the other candidates, but most of the conjecture was whether Native Dancer would win the Preakness and get even with Dark Star for the Derby defeat—the only one in the Dancer's career.

A crowd of 35,000 is expected to see the race, plus countless others on the coast-to-coast television network, or hear it on radio. The broadcast (CBS) will be from 4:30-5 p. m. (EST).

Others in the mile and three-sixteenths classic are Eugene Constantin Jr.'s Royal Bay Gem, winner of the Preakness prep over Dark Star Monday; Jim Norris' Jamie K., winner of two straight in New York recently; Ben Whitaker's Tahitian King, who took the Swift stakes at Belmont Park May 11; Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's Correspondent, and Bruce Campbell's Ram O 'War.

Native Dancer would be 3-5 in the betting, but the track program handicapper made it 4-5, with Dark Star 4-1 and Royal Bay Gem 6-1.

The Native Dancer-Dark Star controversy brings up the Preakness of 1945, won by Polynesian, daddy of the Dancer and Tahitian King.

Hoop Jr. had won the 1945 Derby, but Polynesian didn't run in that one, being reserved for the Preakness. Polynesian upset Hoop Jr. in the Preakness, paying $26 for $2—highest price in the Pimlico classic since Display returned $40.70 in 1926.

Now two sons of Polynesian are in a position to follow in pappy's footsteps and knock off the Derby champ.

All jockey assignments were confirmed, when Charley Burr assured trainer Buddy Sarner he'd be down from Garden State Park to ride Ram O'War.

Native Dancer will be ridden by Eric Guerin, with Henry Moreno on Dark Star, Jim Combest on Royal Bay Gem, Eddie Arcaro seeking his fifth Preakness on Jamie K., Bobby Summers on Correspondent and Hedley Woodhouse aboard Tahitian King.

They'll be shooting for a gross purse of $113,750, the winner banking $65,200.

LEADING FIGURES AND FACTS FOR SATURDAY'S PREAKNESS

Last year's winner: Blue Man, owned by Arthur W. Abbott.
Weather: Partly cloudy, possible scattered showers late in day.

Heafner Collars Lead, Bolt Flips Lid Again

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 22—(AP)—Massive Clayton Heafner shot his greatest round in the Colonial National Invitation golf tournament Friday—a four-under-par 66 that was just one stroke over the competitive course record—to bound into first place at the halfway mark with 140 for 36 holes.

The 250-pound blonde from Charlotte, N. C., in semi-retirement from competition after 18 years of campaigning, had a putter that matched the 94-degree temperature. It was the same one he used in 1948 when he won this tournament with a record 272 for 72 holes.

Heafner took over from erratic Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., who was the first round leader with a 67. Bolt soared sky-high and reverted to his old club-throwing ways.

Bolt wound up with a depleted golf bag and 11 over par. His 81 gave him 148 and put him far down the list. Bolt threw clubs and broke clubs. On No. 15 he broke two across his knee and pitched them over the fence. He threw one club so far the boys speculated if it wasn't a world's record and he hurled his ball into a creek on another hole.

Generally, however, the scores were all lower in this $25,000 tournament whose 7,035 - yard course is a threatening challenge all the way.

The competitive course record was set in 1946 by Ben Hogan and tied by Hogan in 1948.

Heafner was over par on only one hole—No. 17—where he overclubbed the green. But he had no other trouble. He rammed a two-footer for a birdie on 1, a 22-footer for another birdie on 7, a 25-footer for a third birdie on 10, a 15-footer for a birdie on 12 and used his two iron to pitch 2½ feet from the pin for another bird on 13. He was in the rough the only time on 14 but got his par.

The big man had eight one-putt greens.

Edging into second place was little Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., who had a 69—the third player of the day to best par. Skip Alexander of St. Petersburg, Fla., was the other. He had a 68.

Crax Blank Travs In Series Opener

Phillips Retires After First Batter

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 22—Atlanta's Dick Donovan is in the minors now, of course, but he looked like a major leaguer Friday night when he scored Little Rock, 3-0, on four hits.

The veteran right-hander, purchased from the Milwaukee Braves, bore no resemblance to the fellow who was kayoed in his first Cracker start last week.

At least, he didn't after yielding all four Trav safeties in the first rounds. For, in the last five innings, Donovan did not allow a hit, writing off the last 16 batters in order.

Donovan walked only one, fanned four as he outdueled lefty Dick Hoeksema.

However, Dick still hasn't hurled a complete game this season. He missed by only one batter Friday, taking over for Taylor Phillips in the first.

Phillips, the Crackers' southpaw ace, became ill after retiring Carl Linhart and had to leave the game. In the clubhouse, Phillips explained that he had a splitting headache and was rather dizzy.

His ailment was nothing more than a slight case of heat exhaustion, Phillips believed, but he'll still check with a doctor Saturday.

Dick Sinovic and Charlie Williams were Donovan's chief stick supporters, collecting five of Atlanta's eight safeties while knocking in all three runs.

Little Rock left-fielder Linhart aided the Crackers when they cashed their first run in the first. He played Junior Wooten's routine fly into a two-bagger.

Chuck Tanner followed with a hit through the middle, then Sinovic struck a solid scoring single.

Hoeksema, a loser for the fourth time, compared to two victories, regained his poise and held Atlanta in check until the ninth.

In that stanza Sinovic blasted a double off the left-field fence and after Roy Jarvis flied to center, Pete Whisenant drew an intentional pass, both runners advanced on Vern Petty's fly to right, then Williams rapped a two-run single into left.

Donovan pitched himself out of crucial innings in the second, third and fourth. He was lammed for a lead triple by George Bullard in the second. But put down the next three men.

The Travs had two on, only one out in the third, but Dono-

Donovan Allows Only Four Hits

van disposed of R. C. Otey on a double play roller to Petty. Again in the fourth, the Travs based two runners via singles by Dave Jaska and Chick King, but Hal Simpson complied by grounding to Williams for the third out.

Donovan's slick stint, following on the heels of Bob Giggie's shutout and Art Fowler's 6-2 victory over Memphis, left the Cracker pitching staff with this dazzling record: Only two runs allowed in 28 innings.

Off on the right foot in the first of a ten-game road trip, Mauch will send Giggie (3-2) against the Trav's Dutch McCall (3-1) Saturday night.

CRACKER DIARY: Main reason for Jack Brittin's slow start this season is a sore arm. Until the wing gets okay, Manager Gene Mauch will give the right-hander plenty of rest between turns . . . Mauch probably will return to the lineup during the Nashville series next week. Cracker Pilot says he'll bat lead-off from now on, concentrate more on walks and singles, less on long ball knocks . . . Roy Jarvis banged into 51st Cracker double-play of the season to end a first-inning threat . . . Chuck Tanner has hit safely in six straight games since returning from Toledo . . . Little Rock writers are already booming flashy-fielding Dave Jaska as All-Star third baseman . . . Vern Petty had gone zero for 21, before singling in the fifth inning . . . Andy Mitchell however, failed to snap his umpiring slump . . . Both Crackers and Travs kept up continuous squawks on Mitchell's ball-strike calls.

Pitcher Bill Denney (0-2) was released to Evansville, where he won 16 last year.

Durochermen Make It Six Straight As Atlantan Goes Route for Victory

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Jim Hearn, knocked out seven times in a row this season, came back Friday to pitch the New York Giants to their sixth straight victory, 5-1, over Brooklyn, with a route-going seven-hitter.

It was the first time the Giants' right-hander had gone the distance since last September 17 when he whipped Chicago. He helped nail this one down with a two un double in the fourth inning, a ball sliced off the right field wall not far from the foul line.

Hank Thompson's fifth homer off the left field score board, leading off against reliefer Bob Milliken in the seventh, gave Hearn a comfortable margin as he breezed down the stretch.

Chuck Dressen shook up the Dodger lineup after Thursday night's disaster, moving Jackie Robinson back to third base and sending Don Thompson to right. Billy Cox and Carl Furillo rode the bench. But it didn't make much difference.

back in the sixth on singles by Whitey Lockman, Thomson and Westrum.

Greater Atlantans Fall, 9-7, As Fulton Lefty Is Stopper

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Fulton's unpredictable Bill Kegerreis, Bass' Lane Akers and O'Keefe's Lawrence Graves were the chief conspirators in a plot that thwarted the best-laid plans of a talent-laden Greater Atlanta baseball squad to square the tote in the 6-year-old high school All-Star series at Ponce de Leon Park Friday night.

A crowd estimated at 7,500 watched Kegerreis, a wily left-hander who helped pitch Fulton to the City League championship, hurl hitless ball for the final three innings, strike out seven, walk three and bat across the final run with a single as the City stars took a 9-7 decision, their fourth straight after losing the first two games in the Journal-sponsored classic.

Akers was head triggerman for he troops of Manager Johnny Rucker, the old pro. The silk-smooth shortstop who has never served on a winning team lashed four singles in five trips and, despite two errors on difficult chances, was the fielding star. He handled six other chances, several difficult, like a veteran pro.

Right-hander Graves, thought to be out for the year with a leg injury several weeks ago, allowed only two hits and one run in his middle-three innings stint.

West Fulton first baseman Larry Osborne whacked a double, the only extra base poke of the night, and a single in three trips in aiding the cause. Smith pitcher Gilbert Adair played rightfield for the winners and was the only other player on either side to get two safe blows.

Six singles was all Manager Cecil Travis' predominantly left-handed "country boys" managed off Kegerreis, Graves and Fulton's Lefty Charlie Wright. The "city slickers" belted Russell's Lamar Smith, Campbell's Leonard Moen and Clarkston's Billy Armistead for 15.

Armistead, who was by far the most effective Greater Atlanta moundsman, ironically was losing pitcher. He allowed four hits in his final two-frame outing, but three were scratch infield blows and one a "bad hopper." He whiffed four and a bad-hop grounder by Smith's Louis Partain that trickled into center was the only ball hit to the outfield off him.

The two runs that broke a 7-7 stalemate came in the seventh. Partain poked that single. A passed ball and an infield hit by Fulton's Wendell Tarleton got him to third. Tarleton stole second. Partain tallied on another passed ball, and Tarleton came across as Regerreis scratched a single.

Travis had predicted his speedy "country boys" would "steal their britches." They almost did. Six stolen bases were credited to the losers, but they couldn't steal first base. That was the story.

Singles by Adair, Akers, Osborne and North Fulton's Ray Spruill plus a passed ball gave the city boys three runs in the first inning.

Greater Atlanta rallied for five in the second on three walks, three stolen bases, an error and singles by Avondale's Ronald Bradley and Larry Owens, the latter's blow plating two runners.

Singles by Akers and West Fulton's Max Conn, Osborne's double and an error gave the city lads three in the third after a single by Campbell's Doug Thames, stolen base and an error had given Greater Atlanta a 6-3 bulge in their half.

Graves' single, a wild pitch and Adair's second hit gave the city folks a 7-6 edge in the fourth, but the outlanders knotted it in the sixth on a walk to Decatur's Earl Fuller, stolen base and Akers' throwing error on a roller by Marietta's Jimmy Fitts.

That's when Kegerreis took over and warned of things to come by fanning the first three to face him in the seventh.

RONNIE JONES MVP; RUFFIN WINS DASH

Russell's Ronnie Jones is the most valuable player to his high school baseball team in the Atlanta area, a 32,260-vote poll revealed Friday.

Ronnie Jones

He was presented a symbolic trophy before Friday night's all-star game at Ponce de Leon Park by Jack Tarver, general manager of Atlanta Newspapers, Inc.

Jones, second baseman for the Region 4-AA champions, was the second Russell player to win the honor in two years. Shortstop Billy Moran, who later signed a bonus contract with the Cleveland Indians, won the award in 1952.

Runner-up to Jones was Larry Osborne, West Fulton first baseman.

Tarver also presented medals to winners of a special 100-yard dash run by Atlanta high school football players at the half of last fall's Georgia Tech-FSU game. Finishers in order were Roosevelt's Ernest Sikes, Fulton's Wendell Tarleton, Northside's Bob Hightower and Brown's Don Tedder.

Larry Ruffin, Georgia Tech halfback, won the special 100-yard dash prior to the All-Star baseball game Friday night. Running in full football regalia with football under arm, Ruffin was clocked in 10.9 seconds. Gene White, Georgia end, was three yards back and nosed out Auburn's Fob James for second place.

Barons Nip Chicks, 3-2, On Kucab's Five-Hitter

Lookouts Fall Before Bears, 11-2; Nashville Squeezes by Pelicans, 6-5

By BILL FERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer

Birmingham's John Kucab pitched a nifty five-hitter Friday night and big Gus Triandos nearly matched the total Memphis output as the loop-leading Barons edged the Chicks, 3-2.

In racking up his sixth win in seven starts this season, Kucab trailed most of the way. With Tom Hurd cutting the Barons down with his fast-ball, Memphis held a 2-1 lead going into the eighth.

However, Triandos — who collected four hits in five trips — homered to open the eighth and after George Metkovich tripled, Hurd was off to the showers. Tommy Fine, who relieved Hurd, served up a single for Hal Smith and that was the game.

At the other end of the standings, the Chattanooga Lookouts lost their seventh straight game, going down before the Mobile, 11-2. Nashville edged New Orleans, 6-5.

Jim Melton tossed a six-hitter as Mobile straffed Chattanooga with a 13-bingle attack.

Nashville scored six runs in the first four innings off two Pel pitchers and the Vols coasted to their win behind the clutch pitching of Jim Constable and Jim Singleton.

Johnson Takes Stock Feature

Peach Bowl stock-car racers outdid past performances Friday night before a crowd of 5,000 as Jack Johnson won one of the wildest features seen here.

The feature race was restarted twice for flats, slowed for spins, and halted once to unsnarl a three-car tangle.

First heat—Fowler, Jackson, Smith. Second heat—Patton, Israel, Blalock, Padgett. Third heat—Spradley, Sutter, Coffee, Hendley. Novice—Allen, Coker, Molton. Trophy dash—Spradley, Fowler, Israel, Patton. Consolation—Morris, Land, Gann, Moss. Feature—Jackson, Duke, Henby, Fowler.

Sixty Cars May Run In '500' Trials Today

INDIANAPOLIS, May 22—(AP)—A forecast of good racing weather Saturday and rain Sunday acted like a shot of super fuel at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Friday.

Sweating mechanics planned to work all night if necessary to get their cars tuned up for Saturday's qualifications for the 500-mile race May 30.

If enough cars qualify to fill the 33-car field, there probably will be no additional time trials if Sunday's scheduled windup is rained out.

The result of this situation will be a lineup of something between 30 and 60 cars when track officials open the track for qualifications at 10 a. m. (EST) Saturday. Barring wrecks, there should be time for everybody to try during the scheduled nine-hour session.

Twenty-six berths are open in the 37th "500" field. The seven drivers who qualified in the opening trials last week end aren't likely to be bumped. All ran over 135 miles an hour and there probably won't be 33 cars faster than that this week end.

There are 66 cars at the track in addition to the seven already qualified, but no more than 30 of them are rated in the 135-mile-an-hour class.

Saturday's crowd, which may pass 75,000 if the weather is good, will see a "Who's Who" of American auto racing try to get into the starting field. They include former Indianapolis winners Bill Holland and Johnnie Parsons; the national stock car champion, Marshall Teague, and such long-time contenders as Duke Nalon, Sam Hanks, George Connor, Tony Bettenhausen and Chuck Stevenson.

McIntyre Faces Moto Tonight

The Japanese sleeper could be the night train to Osaka, but not in the hands of Mr. Moto, who shares top billing in the City Auditorium wrestling show Saturday night.

The sleeper hold is Mr. Moto's favorite means of making mayhem in the ring and he warns Don McIntyre to watch out when they clash for the Southern heavyweight crown. The match is a one-fall, one-hour limit affair.

The cofeature bout will send Nick Carter against tough Art Nelson in another one-fall one-hour brawl. Other bouts send Carlos Guzman against Henry Harrel and Tex Riley against Danny Dusekm, youngest member of the famed Riot Squad. First bout is at 8:30 p. m.

Riley Meets Bee McWane

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 22—(AP)—Polly Riley fired a barrage of birdies to oust Kathy McKinnon, 2 and 1, and Bee McWane conquered a siege of nervousness to beat Mary Janssen, 3 and 1, in the 38th Women's Southern Amateur tournament semifinals Friday.

In reaching the Southern finals for the fourth time, Miss Riley, from Fort Worth, Tex., birdied the first, fifth and 13th holes to trim Miss McKinnon, the defending champion from Lake Worth, Florida.

Miss McWane, the Alabama state champion from Birmingham, reached the finals for the second straight year, although struggling at the finish against Miss Janssen, the Charlottesville, Va., hopeful.

Techs' Rhino Makes All-SE

BIRMINGHAM, May 22—(AP)—Georgia placed two men and Georgia Tech one on the All-Southeastern Conference baseball team announced Friday by the Birmingham News.

The champion Bulldogs placed pitcher Jack Roberts and shortstop Reggie Andrews. Pitcher-outfielder-infielder Chappell Rhino made it for Tech.

FIRST TEAM

First Base—Pete Vogt, Tulane, .317; second base—Frank Bragan, Mississippi State, .362; third base—B. B. Hopkins, Tennessee, .414; shortstop—Reggie Andrews, Georgia, .322; utility—Chappell Rhino, Georgia Tech, .233 as batter, 5-2 as pitcher.

Outfielders—Lewis Gilardoni, Mississippi State, .377; Jack Reed, Mississippi, .400; Frank Ramsey, Kentucky, .320.

Catchers—Jerry Marchand, LSU, .371; Bobby Barnes, Florida, .269.

Pitchers—Jack Roberts, Georgia, 7-2; Curt Monroe, Mississippi State, 6-1; Harry Cox, Florida, 8-2.

SECOND TEAM

First Base—John Huffstetler, Tennessee, .321 as batter, 3-3 as pitcher; second base—Jim Hirsch, Florida, .250; third base—Jerry Belk, Alabama, .247; shortstop—Jack Parker, Mississippi State, .343; utility—Bobby Sherrer, Georgia, .327.

Outfielders—Rudy Simpson, Florida, .353; John Clifton, Georgia, .283; Bobby Jordan, Auburn, .260.

End Game With Triple Play; Mize Sets Pinch-Hit Mark

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—The Washington Senators handed the New York Yankees a humiliating 12-4 defeat Friday, raking Allie Reynolds for five runs in the first inning and adding the final insult by ending the game with a triple play.

A sparse crowd of 4,774 watched the Senators go on an 18-hit rampage, their biggest batting spree of the season.

They watched plenty more. For instance:

1. Johnny Mize, the veteran first baseman of the New York Yankees, set a new American League record by hitting safely in his fifth straight pinch-hitting assignment.

2. Mickey Vernon, Washington first baseman, stretched his batting streak to 16 straight games.

3. Clyde Vollmer walloped a home run and double to drive in five runs, moving him nearer the top in RBIs in the league with 26.

4. Bob Porterfield, the castoff Yankee pitcher, won his fifth straight game, adding two hits to the Washington attack.

Bosox Nip Athletics Twice by 3-2 Count

BOSTON, May 22—(AP)—Sammy White's double with one out in the 12th inning of the second game scored Hoot Evers with the run that gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory and a sweep of Friday's double-header with the Philadelphia Athletics. The Red Sox came up with a two-run rally in the eighth frame of the opener to give the unbeaten southpaw Mel Parnell a 3-2 decision for his sixth victory.

Dixie's Best on Hand For GAAU Today

Afternoon, Evening Events Set for Grant Field Track

A goodly portion of Dixie's best track and field performers will gather at Grant Field Saturday afternoon and night for the third annual Georgia AAU championships.

The afternoon program will start at 2:30 p. m. with the running of preliminaries in the 100, 220, high and low hurdles and

HIGH-HURDLE ACE
Auburn's Bill Fickling

quarter-mile run. Finals in all 16 events are scheduled for Saturday night starting at 7:30.

Auburn's Tigers, headed by Jackie Creel, the Southeastern Conference 100 and 220 king, and Don Johnson, the Conference quarter-mile champion for the last two years, have again been rated the boys to beat. Coach Wilbur Hutsell has entered 20 men and many of them are expected to pick up points for the War Eagle squadron. Last year's team racked up 51½ points to take home the team trophy.

Georgia, Georgia Tech, Florida State, Florida, Miami, Mercer, Tennessee, Lawson AFB, Miami Senior High, Baylor School of Chattanooga, and Duke will be represented in the meet along with many unattached stars such as Herb Neff, the former Tennessee high jump ace, and Tom Bowman, the Floridian who has entered nine events. Bowman, a decathlon star, is using this meet as a warmup for the AAU 10-event championship at Plainfield, N. J., next month.

Second Lt. Jim Hanlen of Lawson AFB has filed his entry in the 440 and 880 and could prove to be a dark horse in the two events. He is reported to have excellent times in both events.

Tennessee's distance squad will be shooting for a sweep of first places in the 880 mile and two-mile. The Vols are headed by Frank Albertson, who holds both the SEC and Georgia AAU records for the half mile. Frank, a former Druid Hills High school runner, has entered the half, mile and two-mile, but it is likely that he will turn the two-mile over to teammates Al Kuykendall and Gamble and devote his time to the shorter races. Sam Hill, the Vols' SEC 880 titlist, will go with Frank in this event and probably the mile.

The sprints should be among the most interesting races of the program. Creel, who will be defending champ in both, will face stern opposition from Ellis Goodloe of Baylor School; Otho Dodd of Georgia; Joe Hall, Georgia Tech footballer running unattached; Richard Mize, Florida State; Richard Amling, Duke; Alvin Shackelford, Mercer; Dennis Berg, Lawson AFB, and Richard Wainscott, unattached.

The quarter and 880 might turn into "hoss" races, too. Although the hurdles are unpredictable, Bill Fickling of Auburn and Joel Shankle of Duke could have a real duel in the 120 highs. Both are rated tops in their respective conferences.—PRATHER.

LESTER KELLY (R) CAPTURES CITY PUBLINX GOLF TITLE AGAIN
James Stamps Congratulates Him After Losing on Second Hole of Playoff

Les Kelly Keeps Crown In Publinx 'Overtime'

Jolts James Stamps on 38th Hole After Regulation Deadlock at 140

By BERT PRATHER

Lester Kelley successfully defended his Atlanta Publinx Golf Championship Friday afternoon at Adams Park course, but he had to stage a stirring last-ditch rally to edge sharp-shooting James Stamps on the second hole of a sudden-death playoff.

They finished the regulation 36 holes all even, Kelly with 73-67—140 and Stamps with a pair of 70s. That brought on the extra curtain call. On the first extra hole, a par three, both got down in par. Then on the second, a 373-yard par four, Stamps three-putted from about 30 feet for a bogey five, while the champ was down in two putts for his par and the victory.

This marked the second straight year that Kelly had to go extra holes to nail down the crown. Last year at Bobby Jones course, he and Gene Hay finished in a deadlock at 149, but the Bulldog star was the winner with a birdie three on the first extra hole.

Kelly was off to a shaky start Friday, posting a three-over-par 39 on the first nine. He steadied to a 34 coming in only to find his 73 effort trailing Stamps by three strokes. Stamps was out in 34 and back in 36.

Kelly bogied the par-three first hole to start the afternoon tour, but then really got in the groove. He birdied the par-five sixth, eagled the par-five seventh and knocked in birdie threes at 13, 15 and 18 to finish with a 67, five under par.

Stamps, meanwhile, was playing good enough to win most tournaments with 35-35—70. However, all it got him was a momentary tie and a licking in the playoff.

Third place went to Pfc. Marshall Trammell of Fort McPherson. The ex-Vanderbilt star opened with a 76 and finished with a 68 for a 36-hole total of 144. Paul Sheppard's 75-70—145 was good for fourth prize, while young Eddie Weitz grabbed fifth and last prize with 73-73—146.

Roy McCollum, 15-year-old Northside High golfer, finished far down the list, but he was the talk of the tournament following a hole-in-one on the 295-yard par-four 15th. His gem was authored with a driver.

Giovanelli Carves Upset Over Martinez in Garden

Brooklyn Kid Comes Off Floor And Wins With Brilliant Rally

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Rookie Danny Giovanelli, a rangy Brooklyn kid shooting for the moon in his first Madison Square Garden main go, upset Vince Martinez, boxing's 1952 "rookie of the year" Friday night on a split decision in a bristling 10-rounder that drew a round of cheers from the small crowd of 4,583.

Martinez weighed 146, Giovanelli 144¾.

The scrap saw 20-year-old Giovanelli taking an eight-count from a stunning right-hand punch in the ninth round only to roar back fighting.

Always pressing, Giovanelli walked in like he never heard of the youngster from Paterson, N. J. He outmanned him in the clinches, shook off his best punches and kept flailing away on the inside.

NEW YORK—Roland La Starza declined a challenge to fight Ezzard Charles for the right to get the next shot at heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano. "Charles has had plenty of title fights," said La Starza's manager, Jimmy de Angelo. "Now Roland wants his chance. He's waited three years for a promised return bout with Marciano, and we're not going to let anything stand in our way now. We want Marciano and nobody else."

CHICAGO—Chief Archie Whitewater, full-blooded Cherokee Indian, will make his first non-California start against New York's tough Carmine Fiore in a nationally-televised (ABC) welterweight 10-rounder at Rainbo Arena Saturday night at 8 p. m. (EST). Whitewater, from Oakland, Calif., is a replacement for Eddie Chavez who was forced to skip meeting Fiore, it was reported, because of dysentery.

NEW YORK—Manager Al Weill said Friday he has almost closed a deal for Rocky Marciano to make an exhibition tour of the Pacific next month. "We'll visit Manila, Honolulu, Guam and Tokyo and visit the troops in Korea," Weill said.

NEW YORK—The New York State Athletic commission Friday acknowledged receipt of a $2,500 check from Danny (Boom Boom) Womber to challenge welterweight champion Kid Gavilan for a title bout. The commission also reinstated Walter Cartier, New York middleweight who was suspended by the British Board of Boxing Control.

Sportsmen Now Working for Control Bill To Let Fishermen Use Baskets and Traps

Since I was in on the planning of the rough fish-control legislation unanimously passed by the state House last January and stymied by Sen. Grady Coker in the Senate, I was especially glad to see that most of the new Georgia Game and Fish magazine was devoted to an explanation of the bill.

Senator Coker last year thought that the licensed baskets and traps used in clearing our streams and impoundments of grindle, suckers, carp and gar—and the mudcat that destroy game fish beds—would diminish game fish population.

Aides meeting commission specifications could be used by commercial or sport fishermen to catch fish.)

Tests have proved, however, that only 3 per cent by poundage of the fish taken in the approved traps are scale game fish. We are 20 years behind the rest of the United States in this, and that is why the Oconee, Ocmulgee, upper Flint and part of the Chattahoochee have gone down, down, down in game fish population.

We understand that Senator Coker will aid the commission this fall in passing the legislation so more channel cat, bass, bream and crappie can be caught in the Chattahoochee near his native Cherokee County, and in Allatoona, which now is rough fish haven, according to reporting biologists.

If you are interested in more bass and less gar, more stripers and less carp, more crappie and bream and less suckers, contact your state senator about H. B. 270 and let's get it passed.

SHORT CASTS—M. C. Patton of Atlanta got eight speckled perch and a five-pound bass at McIntosh. . . . Other successful speckled perch (or crappie) fishermen were Robert Brantley, James Bartlett, Bertram Adams and Ivey Gordon, who got 77 at Orange Lake. . . . R. H. Johnson of Marietta scored with 50 bream. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sherouse of Pooler brought home 75 crappie after a trip south. . . . Robert Stewart of Marietta got a nine-pound bass fishing from Orange Lake Fish Camp. . . . Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Bland of Valdosta trolled among the floating islands for three bass weighing 10 pounds. . . . Guy Stancil of Gainesville has been getting his limit of bass and pike at Hiawassee Lake every Wednesday afternoon with a Dalton Special decorated with a drop fly. . . . Bass are off the bed in Jackson Lake and striking rough. . . . Bream should bed where they haven't already, beginning this week end through next Thursday when the moon will be full.

Cards Win, Greengrass Takes Lead

ST. LOUIS, May 22—(AP)—Stan Musial drove in two runs with a single and homer Friday night as the third-place St. Louis Cardinals, scoring their fourth straight victory, pulled within one-half game of the National League lead by defeating the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Jim Greengrass led the Reds' seven-hit attack with a single, double and triple to take the National League batting lead with a .365 average.

Vince Dooley Will Captain Auburn Gridders

AUBURN, Ala., May 22—(AP). Vince Dooley, quarterback from Mobile, will captain the Auburn football team this fall.

Dooley was out most of last season because of a knee injury. Center Ed Baker, also from Mobile, was chosen alternate captain.

The 185-pound Dooley underwent an operation on his ailing knee last winter. He is expected to be back in good shape for the 1953 season although he missed spring practice.

Sport-Car Jock Killed; DeSpirito Ahead of '52

Condensed From Constitution Wire Reports

Racing driver Bob Wilder, 28, of Palmer, Mass., was killed Friday when his sport car overturned during a practice run on the Bridgehampton Road course.

The car, a No. 3 Allard, struck a depression in the road after crossing a bridge at high speed and rolled over. Wilder was strapped in with a safety belt. Southampton officials called a meeting with Sports Club representatives to determine whether the race would be held. The feature race is the 100-mile Bridgehampton Cup.

Bill Lee, fastballer of the Chicago Cubs a decade ago, entered a sanitarium in Baton Rouge, La., for a series of eye operations.

Tony DeSpirito, top jockey in the nation last year with 390 victories, booted home three more winners at Suffolk Downs Friday to boost his season's total to 105 victories. He had but 49 at this stage last year.

Maureen Connolly made an impressive debut in the French International tennis championships Friday, walloping Christiane de Marcellis of Belgium, 6-1, 6-3, in Paris. Vic Seixas crushed France's Bernard Destremeau, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox, was reported in San Francisco Friday, possibly with an eye toward purchasing the Pacific Coast League Seals. Cronin denied any such interest.

The New York Giants recalled catcher Ray Noble from their Minneapolis farm and sold outfielder George Wilson to the same club.

Montreal of the Big Four Football Union, signed Chuck Hunsinger, ex-Florida back with the Chicago Bears the last three seasons.

Billy Johnson, released recently as a 10-year man by the St. Louis Cardinals, was resigned by the club as a player-coach of its Columbus, Ohio, farm club, American Association.

Thane Baker of Kansas State ran the fastest quarter mile in Big Seven track history—a steaming 47.1—in preliminaries to the Conference's annual outdoor meet Friday.

Aristocrats of the dog world— 2,612 of them in 78 different breeds—will try for the coveted best-in-show award at Friday's 23rd annual Morris and Essex Kennel Club show.

RAMSAY AGAIN STRONG

Alabama Prep Trackmen Threat To Georgia's 'Best Ever' Group

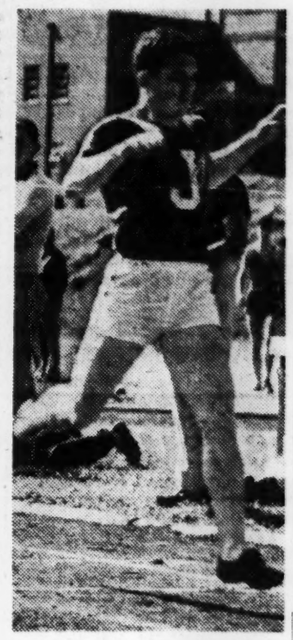

Despite the fact that Georgia high school trackmen broke six of 13 existing records in their annual state meet here last week, Alabama speedsters and musclemen seem to have their best chance to snap Georgia domination of the annual Georgia-Alabama meet over-all championship when top athletes from the two states battle it out in their specialties in Birmingham Saturday night.

Birmingham Ramsay High, which beat out Macon Lanier for the school title a year ago, 26⅓ to 19, again has another very strong team. And times, distances and heights in the Alabama meet last week were also on the exceptional side.

Most outstanding times posted in the Alabama eliminations perhaps were recorded by Ramsay's Dewell Crumpton, who won the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.8 and the 180 lows in 20.4. Even so, Atlanta Northside's Tommy Beutell matched the 14.8, and Druid Hills' Joel Smith bettered the 20.4 with a 20 flat performance in the same events in the Georgia meet.

Mavern Parker, the Andalusia marathoner who won last year's Georgia-Alabama mile run in 4:34.4, ran second in a 4:36 mile this year, but still figures to give Atlanta Grady's Everett Whatley—who won the Georgia event in a record 4:33.2—a merry battle to the wire.

TESTS ALABAMANS
Jordan's James Ferrell

Graves in a 2.03.2 half mile here last week, and Graves will have their hands more than full on the two-times-around run. A Gadsdenite did the same run in 2:02 this trip.

Druid Hills' Bill Duckworth still figures to win his shot-put specialty, but young Fred Sington Jr., son of the former Atlantan and a one-time Alabama all-American tackle, should push him, having dumped the iron over 50 feet in the Alabama shindig.

Crumpton may have the high jump all to himself, having done 6 feet, ½-inch and 6-1 in the Alabama state meet and Southern Relays. No Alabaman figures to touch the broad jumps of Columbus High's John Christofferson, who betters 22 feet.

Buster Rawls of Montgomery Lanier ran the century in 10 flat, the 220 in 21.5 in the state meet and will be pitted against Columbus' Jordan's James Ferrell, who did 9.8 and 22.5 in the Georgia meet. Bill Godwin's Jordanites appear to be the best Georgia bet for the school title.

Georgia has won all three meets thus far, but last year by a close 62 1/6 to 54 5/6.—ROBERTS

Atlanta Churches To Celebrate Pentecost Sunday

By LAURA BARRE

Pentecost, the day on which the Holy Spirit is said to have descended on the apostles, will be celebrated in Atlanta churches Sunday with baptisms, confirmations and other special services.

Atlanta Methodists will gather at 3 p. m. at the Ponce de Leon Park for a rally which not only will commemorate Pentecost and Aldersgate Day, but also will climax the United Evangelistic Mission recently conducted by Methodist churches in the Southeastern states.

Bishop Arthur J. Moore, presiding bishop of the church in Georgia and Central Europe and president of the Board of Missions, will speak at the rally, and the Emory University Glee Club will present a half-hour concert.

Aldersgate Day is the anniversary of the experience in John Wesley's life that led him to establish the Methodist Church.

It was at a Moravian meeting on May 24, 1738, that Wesley "felt his heart strangely warmed, and knew that Christ had taken away his sins and saved him from the law of sin and death."

Pentecost in early times was the Jewish "Festival of Wheat" and day of thanksgiving for the gift of the laws. It is called the "birthday of the Christian Church," because it was their Pentecost experience which led Christ's disciples to launch the world-wide mission of evangelism which established Christianity.

The Holy Spirit, the Comforter Christ promised to send his followers when He ascended into Heaven, came not only to the 12 apostles, but to 120 believers, both men and women. Thus the people knew the Christian faith was meant not for the selected few but for all mankind.

It is said the Holy Spirit came "like a mighty, rushing wind," and stood like "tongues of fire" above the heads of the apostles. This gave rise to several quaint customs in the early church. In Italy the people scattered rose petals from the ceilings and balconies of the churches to symbolize the "tongues of fire."

Clothes for Korea

Members of every church in Atlanta are asked to gather clothes Sunday in connection with a nation-wide effort to raise a minimum 6,000,000 pounds of clothing for shipment to destitute Koreans.

The drive is sponsored by American Relief for Korea, under the auspices of the American Council of Volunteer Agencies for Foreign Service, Inc., and in cooperation with the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Aid of the State department.

Members of the planning committee for the drive in Atlanta are Roy LeCraw, general chairman; J. H. Oetgen, representing the Atlanta Christian Council; Mrs. Malcolm Bryan, chairman for Catholic Women; Mrs. Warren C. Drummond; chairman for Protestant women, and Mrs. Joseph Pintchuk, chairman for Jewish women.

The following churches, selected because of accessibility, have been named receiving stations for the clothing:

Zone 1—Sacred Heart and Immaculate Conception Catholic Churches, Trinity Methodist Church, the Jewish Temple and Peachtree Christian Church; Zone 2—Grace Methodist Church and St. Thomas More Catholic Church; Zone 3—Peachtree Road Methodist Church and Christ the King Cathedral; Zone 4—Inman Park and Epworth Methodist Churches and Inman Park Presbyterian Church; Zone 5—Ormewood Park Presbyterian Church; Zone 6 — St. Paul Methodist Church; Zone 7—Stewart Avenue Methodist Church and St. Anthony's Catholic Church; Zone 8—Grant Park Baptist Church; Zone 9 — Bethany Methodist Church, and Zone 10—Brown Memorial Methodist Church.

Clothing wrapped in heavy paper may be taken to those churches Saturday and Sunday. Army trucks will collect the bundles at the churches Sunday and take them to a central shipping point where they will be packed for shipment to Korea.

No clothing can be accepted after Sunday.

To Install Officers

Officers of the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild at Trinity Methodist Church will be installed at the 11 a. m. service Sunday.

WSCS officers are Mrs. John W. Whatley, president; Mrs. T. Cecil Myers, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Graham, secretary; Katherine Crabbe, treasurer, and Mrs. John A. Manget, local treasurer.

Mrs. S. Reaves Gaston, secretary of promotion; Mrs. John Thomas, secretary of student work; Mrs. E. A. Hartsock, secretary of children; Mrs. E. J. Hammond, secretary of missionary education; Mrs. W. C. Wimbish, secretary of supplies; Mrs. John Hardwick, secretary of literature and publication; Mrs. Graham, secretary of Christian social relations; Mrs. T. E. Blackburn, secretary of spiritual life.

Mrs. Myers, representative to the Board of Education; Mrs. Fleda Perry, co-ordinator; Mrs. Newton Craig, Council of Church Women; Mrs. Manget, Wesley House; Mrs. T. E. Blackburn, Goodwill; Mrs. Whatley, Emory Hospital.

Circle Chairmen are Mrs. F. G. Crout, Mrs. Arthur Fleming, Mrs Hartsock and Mrs. C. H. Pinson.

Wesleyan Service Guild officers are Mary Pool, president; Katherine King, vice-president; Mattie Moore, secretary; Mrs. A. R. McDaniel, treasurer; Sadie Workman, assistant treasurer; Sara Livingston, Christian Service social relation church activities; Mrs. Don R. Wynne, status of women, and Quida Sanders, spiritual inspiration.

Youth Day

Sunday has been designated Youth Day at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church. A corporate communion for youth will be celebrated at 7:30 a. m. and young people will read the Gospel and the Epistle at the 11 a. m. service.

A youth rally is scheduled at 6:30 p. m., to be followed by a missionary candle-lighting service at 7:15 p. m.

Revival Series

The Rev. Arnold Slater, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Church, Chattanooga, Tenn., will conduct revival services at Center Congregational Church at 8 p. m. May 24 through 29.

Special Meetings

The Watch Tower and Bible Tract Society of New York will sponsor special meetings next week with Gordon Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Bible instruction and concentrated gospel-preaching sessions will be held in Kingdom Hall.

F. R. Eldridge of Hagerstown, Md., will conduct sessions at 8 p. m. Tuesday, 7:15 p. m. Thursday, 8 p. m. Saturday, May 30, and 3 p. m. Sunday, May 31.

THE CHURCH ESTABLISHED

The church was foreshadowed in Old Testament types; it was prophesied of as to its nature and time and place of establishment by the prophets, and proclaimed "at hand" by John and Christ. It was established on the first Pentecost after Christ's resurrection (Acts 2).

Matter of Identity

It is important to know that the church was established on Pentecost for this fact distinguishes Christ's church from all other religious institutions. Any religious body which began before or after this day could not be the church Christ died for. John did not establish the church. He preached that it was "at hand" (Matthew 3: 1, 2). Jesus taught after John's death that John was not in the kingdom (Matthew 11: 11). Jesus did not establish the church during His ministry. He also preached that it was "at hand" (Mark 1: 15). He taught his disciples to pray that it might come (Matthew 6: 9, 10). He promised he WOULD build it (Matthew 16: 18), and Luke informs us that it had not come at the time of Christ's ascension (Acts 1: 6). The church is spoken of as being in existence FOR THE FIRST TIME in Acts 2: 47.

Established With Power

Jesus said some people who lived during his ministry would see the kingdom "come with power" (Mark 9: 1). He commanded his Apostles to wait in Jerusalem until they were "endued with power" (Luke 24: 49). The power came with the Holy Spirit (Acts 1: 8) on Pentecost. Therefore, the church of Christ was established on that day.

WHITE HOUSE SLIGHT CORRECTED — WASHINGTON, May 22—Mrs. Oscar L. Chapman, left, wife of President Truman's Secretary of the Interior, talks with Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower at the White House today about these clothing articles, collected at the executive mansion, for the drive to provide clothing for destitute Koreans. Between them is Mrs. Harold H. Burton, wife of the Supreme Court justice. Mrs. Chapman, chairman of the drive, was invited to be in this picture-taking scene after the White House blamed a "complete misunderstanding" for the fact that she was previously excluded. Mrs. Chapman holds one of President Eisenhower's discarded golf shoes, given to the drive by the First Lady.

Wilson Should Quit, California Solon Says

to warrant his retention at the head of the Defense Department."

He called Wilson a "defeatist secretary" and said, "The dollars he worships will not shoot down attacking planes."

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), whose Senate appropriations subcommittee heard testimony from Wilson on the Air Force cuts earlier this week, said he will demand that those responsible for the report go before his subcommittee. He said the report "disputes the facts as I understand them."

Earlier, Senator Russell of Georgia, ranking Democrat on the Senate armed services committee, warned that peace with Russia may be impossible if Congress approves the proposed air power slash.

Russell commented: "I greatly fear that this reduction is going to make it impossible to work out a world peace. They (the Russians) are not going to bargain with us if we are weak."

At the heart of the controversy is the question of just what role the Joint Chiefs of Staff played in deciding on the reduction in Air Force funds. President Eisenhower proposed the five billion dollar cut as the biggest reduction in his budget for the next fiscal year.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me) questioned Wilson and Deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes closely about the position of the Joint Chiefs when they were before Ferguson's committee.

Eisenhower has shaken up the Joint Chiefs, the nation's top military strategists, and named four admirals and generals who will replace those chosen by former President Harry S. Truman.

Mrs. Smith and Sen. Hill (D-Ala) asked Wilson whether the Joint Chiefs now in office agreed to the Air Force cut.

The secretary said Gen. Vandenberg, the Air Force chief, "didn't specifically approve."

Mrs. Smith wanted to know whether Vandenberg was consulted. To that, Wilson replied the matter was discussed with him "to the extent he was available."

The secretary said he was out of town during the time most of those discussions went on and that Kyes conducted most of the talks.

Ike Signs Tidal Bill, Claims Rim

"pleased" to sign the so-called tidelands bill because recognizing the states' claims to these lands is in keeping with basic principles of honesty and fair play.

"As I have said many times I deplore and I will always resist federal encroachment upon rights and affairs of the state," he said.

The measure also specifies that the continental shelf is exclusively under federal jurisdiction. Mr. Eisenhower let it be known that he believes it should remain that way.

Just before the White House ceremony, Louisiana Conservation Commissioner John B. Hussey told Congress his state intends to regulate oil production beyond its boundaries until some federal agency takes over the job.

"PROVE CONTENTION"

Senators who opposed the original tidelands bill have claimed that the new demands prove their contention that the coastal states would reach for the entire continental shelf as soon as they got title to lands adjacent to their shores.

Mr. Eisenhower's signature carried out one of his 1952 election campaign promises, one credited with having much to do with his carrying the traditionally Democratic states of Texas and Florida.

After signing the measure, Mr. Eisenhower shook hands with two Democrats — Senator Holland of Florida and House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas, both leading proponents of the legislation.

FIGHT NOT OVER

The House completed action on the bitterly fought measure last Wednesday by accepting the Senate's version. The Senate had passed the bill the week before after a five-week debate.

Former President Truman twice —in 1946 and again in 1948—vetoed similar legislation designed to nullify Supreme Court decisions that the Federal Government has "paramount rights" to the offshore lands.

House Kills Ike Cuts in Vocation Aid

Labor department the House increased funds for two of its bureaus above the revised Eisenhower budget to the level requested in the Truman budget.

By voice vote, it added $60,000 for the Women's Bureau, bringing it to $360,000, or $10,000 more than the new administration requested. On a standing vote of 59 to 39, the House added $700,000 for the Bureau of Apprenticeship, boosting the funds to $3,400,000, or $76,000 more than the new administration requested.

Conservative Southern Democrats led the fight for the vocational education funds, declaring that the program would be wrecked if the Federal Government withdraws its support and turns it over to the states as envisioned eventually by the administration.

Returning After Row, Wife Stabbed to Death

MIAMI, Fla., May 22—(AP)—A woman who fled her home clad only in a long shirt after quarreling with her husband was taken back by a sympathetic motorist early today and minutes later was stabbed to death in her bedroom.

The husband was arrested and charged with first-degree murder. Police said he was found in the bedroom holding his wife's head in his lap and whispering: "Please come back to me."

A nine-inch butcher knife had been plunged into her chest.

T. A. Buchanan, of the sheriff's criminal bureau of investigation, identified the dead woman as Mrs. Dorothy L. Goepel, 41, and her husband as Frederick N. Goepel, 40, both of Miami.

Buchanan told this story:

Goepel, a liquor distributing firm employee, said he and his wife had been drinking and got into a quarrel when she said she had been going out with other men. Goepel said he threatened to kill her and she ran from the house.

Louis Hill, operator of the nearby restaurant, saw her stumbling along the road about 2:30 a. m. He stopped and asked her what she was doing dressed like that. She said she was looking for a telephone and that her husband had threatened to kill her.

Hill said he offered to take her to a friend's house but she decided she wanted to go back home and he went along to protect her.

The Goepel car had been moved around to the side of the house and she thought her husband had left. She went in and began dressing and then Hill said he saw a man cross the room.

A moment later, Hill said, he heard her pleading:

"Oh, darling, please don't."

Hill rushed in and found Goepel seated on the edge of a bed. Mrs. Goepel was on the bed clad in brassiere and panties, a butcher knife in her chest. Hill called police.

Baruch Resumes Adviser Position; Luncheon Host Ike 'Doing All Right'

By EDWARD F. CREAGH

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—Bernard Baruch, veteran adviser to presidents, set up business anew today at the same old stand. He lunched for an hour and a half with President Eisenhower.

The white-haired financier wouldn't tell reporters what they talked about but indicated it was a wide range of subjects by saying:

"If anything was left out I wouldn't know just what it was."

This was Baruch's first call on Eisenhower since the President's inauguration. It also was his first visit to the White House since 1948, the year he had a falling out with President Truman.

Baruch said today he was reluctant to "use the White House for a sounding board" but he did offer some occasionally cryptic answers to newsmen's questions.

He said of the forthcoming Big Three meeting in Bermuda: "It's always a good thing for friends who differ to get together and see what their differences are."

He said he thought Eisenhower "is doing all right" as President, adding:

"He's got the toughest job any man ever had."

Until this administration, Baruch went on, Truman had the toughest job.

Asked why he regards Eisenhower's job as harder, the financier replied:

"Because it is so much more complicated and mixed up."

"You mean it was mixed up by President Truman?" a reporter asked.

"You supply that part of the answer," Baruch replied smilingly.

Another reporter asked if he meant Eisenhower inherited a "mixed-up" situation.

"Exactly," Baruch said.

Baruch, who is in his 80s, said he can't quite remember which president was the first he visited, but he was inclined to think it was Theodore Roosevelt.

3 Georgians Win Whitney Study Awards

The John Hay Whitney Foundation Friday announced fellowship awards to three Georgians, two of them Atlantans, for graduate work in music, voice and biology. Miss Dorothy Ellison, formerly of Atlanta and now a student at Juilliard School of Music in New York, was given a fellowship to continue study in voice.

Billy Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Williard Frye, Rt. 1, Clarkesville, was chosen to pursue graduate study in biology at the University of Illinois.

A senior at Piedmont College, he will begin studies in Illinois this fall.

Edgar Clark, 1935 graduate of Clark College and director of music at State Teachers College, Jackson, Miss., was given an award to combine graduate work in music at Columbia University with further work preparing a book on Negro folk music.

Clark, who is known in Atlanta for his arrangement of Negro spirituals, folk songs and work tunes, has compiled and published one edition of Negro songs.

Expressway Connector Route Change Proposed

Approval Sought; Would Swing Through Capitol, Grady Homes

By HERMAN HANCOCK

The City Planning Board and Council's Public Works Committee will be asked next week to approve a new route for the vital expressway connector through downtown Atlanta which would pass through two housing projects—Capitol Homes and Henry Grady Homes—and condemn 27 low-rent apartments.

Col. Garland Steele, city liason engineer on traffic improvements, announced the decision to relocate the connector Friday after months of engineering study.

Colonel Steel said engineers of affected governments and the State Highway Department are convinced the new route which would extend nearly three blocks east of the old route should be used.

MORE FLEXIBILITY

He said it generally would pass through less valuable property and would allow more flexibility in handling traffic leaving the expressway to the west.

He said costs, including an estimated payment of $750,000 to $900,000 for the apartments, will not exceed previous estimates.

Engineers said except for the housing projects most of the area traversed by the proposed route generally is regarded as substandard.

PROMISES CO-OPERATION

M. B. Satterfield, director of the Atlanta Housing Authority which owns and operates the housing projects, promised "every possible co-operation."

He said wherever possible the authority will move whole apartments with the least possible inconvenience to tenants.

The proposed connector will follow the old route between Piedmont Ave. and Courtland St. near Forrest Ave., where it will be moved east about two blocks to traverse an area between Bell and Fort Sts.

It will continue the swing southward, dipping into the Henry Grady (Negro) low rent housing project and proceed through the western edge of Capitol Homes.

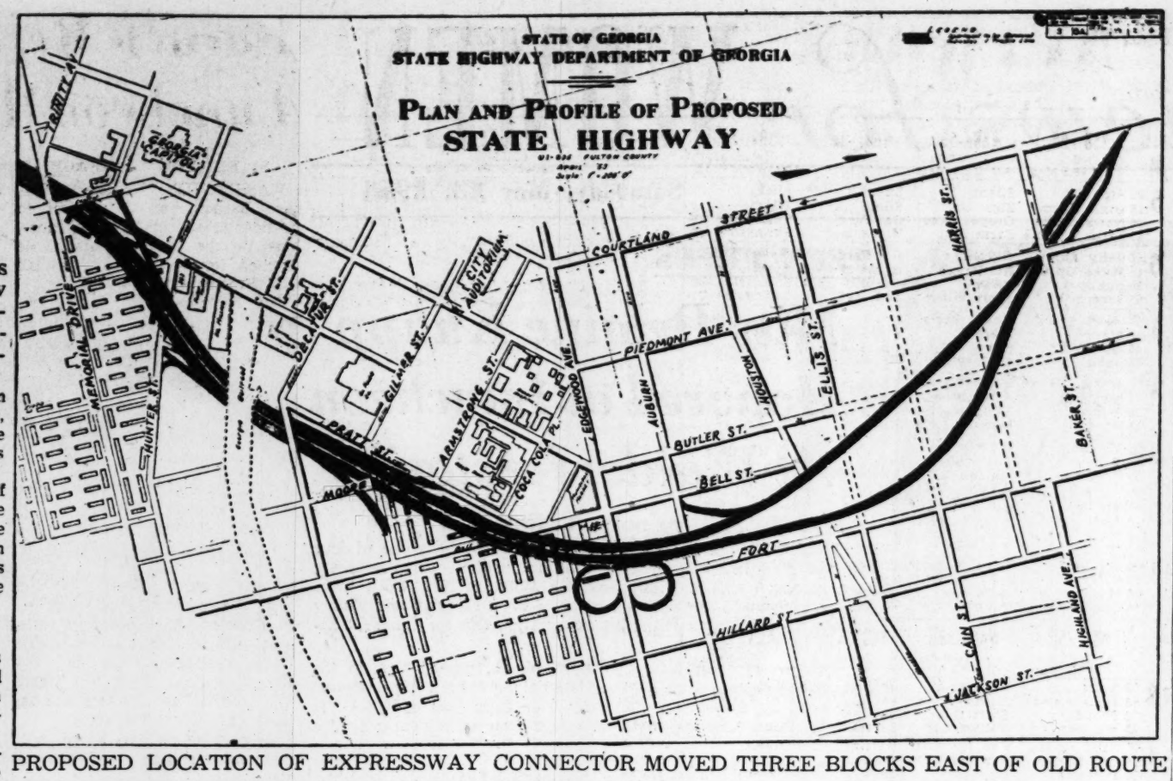

COVERS FOUR BLOCKS

Engineers estimate about four blocks of housing authority apartments will be needed for the new route. After traversing the Capitol Homes project, the connector will swing westward to Capitol Ave. and Memorial Dr. where it will proceed along the old route in the Pulliam-Pryor St. area. It will connect with the south leg of the expressway at University Avenue.

The new route will pass east of Grady Hospital, the city and county police stations and several large commercial and industrial facilities, thus avoiding concentrated sections.

Colonel Steele said the change would permit a rearrangement of the street pattern east of the connector to handle better the huge volume of traffic which the expressway will bring into the heart of the city.

He said the original plan would not have made possible maximum benefits "because we could not have established parking lots, improvements simple because we would not have had sufficient room between the old line of the connector and the central business district."

Wesberry Backs U. S. Book Probe

The Rev. James P. Wesberry, chairman of the Georgia Literature Commission, said Friday he hopes a House committee in Washington would approve and the House itself would pass a bill renewing an investigation of obscene literature.

In Washington, House leaders indicated the lid is on any further such investigation. A bill by Representative Kearns (Rep., Pa.) to renew a probe the House conducted last year into pornographic books and magazines, is bottled up in the rules committee. Chairman Leo Allen (Rep., Ill.) said he exepcts to let it stay there.

In the last Congress, a special committee under the leadership of Representative Gathings (Dem., Ark.) reported that obscene literature on newsstands represents a danger to juvenile readers, but concluded Congress could not assume the role of censor.

Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, meanwhile, registered with key House members a strongly worded warning against a possible threat to freedom of the press in such investigations.

"Naturally, I am as concerned as anybody about protecting our freedoms," Chairman Wesberry said. "But I have a deep feeling that a great many people are abusing, exploiting and commercializing freedom."

The Georgia Literature Commission, whose probe into obscene literature is patterned after the Gathings Committee investigation, will hold its next meeting Tuesday at Greensboro.

State Files Answer to Ward's Suit

State's attorneys Friday filed a formal answer to the suit of Horace Ward, Atlanta Negro, for admission to the University of Georgia Law School, in U. S. District Court.

The answer reiterated the state's contention that Ward had not exhausted all the administrative possibilities available to him.

A. T. Walden, Ward's attorney, said filing the answer meant all of the preliminaries were out of the way and the case was ready to be tried on its merits. Walden said that he will try to get the case on the court calendar as soon as possible.

Argentina Police Patroling Border

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, May 22 (AP)—Federal police, who have been rounding up suspected bomb plotters, took over from the border guard today the job of patroling the Uruguayan frontier.

Some of those arrested by the Federal officers have asserted suspected terrorists made frequent trips across the border to get money and arms from political exiles in Uruguay.

Barbers Group Convention Set

Georgia barbers and beauticians will open their 23d annual convention here Sunday with registration at the Henry Grady Hotel at 9 a. m.

Delegates from all points in the state are expected to attend the two-day meeting of the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of Georgia.

A banquet and dance in the Dixie Ballroom of the Henry Grady will climax the gathering Monday evening.

Undecided On New Plea, Transit Says

Leland Anderson, president of the Atlanta Transit Co., said Friday night the company has not decided whether it will ask the Georgia Public Service Commission for a further increase in fares.

The company already has before the commission a request for a new and higher token rate of 14 for $1.75. Tokens now sell four for 50 cents.

A decision on this request is pending, with a second hearing on the case scheduled for June 12.

Chairman Matt L. McWhorter of the Public Service Commission disclosed Friday, however, that the company plans to amend its original petition, apparently to seek further increases.

"We haven't made up our minds yet," Anderson said. Asked if an increase would be sought in shopper fares, the company president said any request for an additional increase might take the form of any one of several combinations.

A special Senate committee is at work on a study of Atlanta's transit service, including schedules, fares, taxes and the financial structure of the company.

Youth Survives Bite of Moccasin Chopped in Two

Ted Morris Hood, 18, of Alpharetta, who was bitten by a poisonous snake that had been cut in two, probably was saved by an emergency tourniquet applied to his arm, Grady doctors said Friday.

The youth's father, William F. Hood, explained he chopped an 8-foot copperhead moccasin in two just below the head. He said his son picked up the head to examine it—and was bitten. They applied a tourniquet, and young Hood was given antivenom injections at Grady.

REVIVES HOPES OF KIN

N. C. Officer Alive When He Last Saw Him, Philpott Says

The wife and parents of a young Raleigh, N. C., lieutenant who was reported missing in action in May, 1951, Friday learned that he probably is in a Communist prisoner-of-war camp near Paktan, Korea.

Pvt. Robert Floyd Philpott, repatriated POW from Hogansville, told The Constitution that First Lt. Roger B. Kirchofer was a prisoner in Camp No. 1 until he was transferred to another camp near Paktan in the summer of 1952.

George C. Gardner, Atlanta sales engineer, had requested information about Lt. Kirchofer after reading accounts of Philpott's capture and imprisonment in The Constitution. Gardner is a business associate of the lieutenant's father, R. C. Kirchofer, a North Carolina clothing manufacturer with interests in Cordele.

Lt. Kirchofer and Pvt. Philpott were members of the 2nd Division, and the Hogansville soldier said both of them were captured in May, 1951.

It has been two years since the Kirchofers had been informed their son was missing in action. The lieutenant's father said that until receiving the information from Philpott he had given up all hope that his son was alive.

"Its' a great relief," he said.

Lt. Kirchofer, an only son, had been married only three months when he was sent overseas soon after the Korean conflict began. An intelligence officer who speaks the Korean language fluently, he served in the Far East during World War II.

Kirchofer Friday was trying to contact M/Sgt. Odie Lawley, repatriated POW from Medicine Park, Okla., for later information about his son.

Philpott said that Lawley also had been a prisoner of Camp No. 1, but was transferred along with Lt. Kirchofer and other officers and non-commissioned officers to the camp near Paktan.

Blind Shops' Transfer to State Okayed

An order authorizing transfer of all assets of the Atlanta Community Shop, Inc., broom-manufacturing plant and charitable organization employing blind and handicapped persons, to the State Welfare department was issued Friday by Fulton Superior Court Judge Jesse M. Wood.

The order was granted on petition of the organization, located at Frazer and Ormon St., S. E. The petition stated the State Welfare department "operates a factory for the blind in Bainbridge and thinks it advisable to operate one in Atlanta."

Conditions attached to the transfer require the state Welfare department continue the shop's operation and make an effort to keep present employees without reduction in salary.

Phil Cawthon, assistant state welfare director, said Friday that Paul Terrell, superintendent of the Bainbridge factory, will soon submit plans for proposed operation of the Atlanta plant by the welfare department.

Given Year For Auto Deaths Of Family of 10

BELVIDERE, N. J., May 22 (AP)—John Scarantino, 21-year-old Scranton, Pa., truck driver, today was sentenced to two to three years in prison for the auto deaths of 10 members of a farm family in a single crash.

Scarantino had pleaded guilty to charges of causing death by auto.

Clarence Matlock, a dairy farmer, his wife, five children, two sisters and mother were all killed in a collision with a truck Scarantino was driving on March 20.

39 Listed Hanged For Mau Activity

NAIROBI, Kenya, May 22—(AP)—A Kenya government spokesman said today that 39 natives have been hanged in this British colony for Mau Mau terrorist offenses.

Almost 400 other persons face death charges for terrorist activities, he said, while 32 natives have been acquitted of association with the Mau Mau.

Plan Uniform Taxi Rate for North DeKalb

Proposals for a uniform taxi rate for the north DeKalb area were outlined Friday at a luncheon meeting of north DeKalb leaders and Commissioner Scott Candler.

Candler told Mayor R. C. Lowe of North Atlanta, G. A. Wehunt of Brookhaven and Roddy McElroy of Doraville he would ask J. B. Phillips, president of the Veteran Blue Top Cab Co., to meet with Chamblee attorney Carl Hudgins to draw up an ordinance regulating taxi fares in the area.

The leaders discussed a zoned map of the area to establish a uniform rate in the unincorporated areas. A set rate would be adopted for trips inside the municipalities.

The meeting grew out of complaints of citizens in the area, but Mayor Lowe said the complaints were only isolated incidents. He stated Phillips has been co-operating with leaders in an effort to eliminate such incidents.

An ordinance regulating taxi drivers and companies adopted by the Chamblee Council was cited by the leaders as suitable for the other municipalities. Fares charged outside the cities would be based on mileage, they said. Taxis operating in the area are not equipped with meters.

Contractor Indicted on Abuse Charge

A Hapeville contractor was indicted by the Fulton County grand jury Friday on a misdemeanor charge of using abusive language in a telephone conversation with Hapeville Mayor Frank R. Lea.

W. H. Allgood of Hapeville was charged in the true bill with using "abusive language and opprobrious words" during a May 7 telephone call to Lea at the Hapeville City Hall concerning a building permit. Allgood's bond was set at $200.

A former employee of Grayson-Robins Stores Inc., listed as Mrs. Dorothy Gerst of 491 Lake St., N. W., was indicted on charges of embezzlement and larceny after trust in connection with an alleged company loss of $7,232. Her bond was set at $3,000.

Six persons were indicted in separate burglary cases Friday. They were listed as Ulysses Gamble, Negro, of 399 Mays Ave., S. E.; John Henry Billings, Negro, of 754 Reid St., S. E.; Cicero Hills, Negro, of 29 Plant St., S. E.; Fred A. Bennett, of 519 Crew St., S. W.; Robert Andy Furkham, Negro, of 194 Linden St., N. E., and Norman Williams, Negro, of 514 Collier St., N. W.

AF Procurement Chief Praises Lockheed Work

Roger Lewis, assistant secretary of the Air Force in charge of procurement, made a routine inspection of the Georgia Division of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Friday afternoon and expressed himself "well impressed with the plant and the work going on there."

Lewis is currently visiting various aircraft plants throughout the nation. The Marietta plant is building B-47 Stratojet 600 m.p.h. jet bombers for the Air Force and is tooling for the production of the C-130 turbo-prop cargo plane for the Air Force.

"This is a wonderful facility and I am sure that the Georgia people employed at the plant are going to continue to do a fine production job for the Air Force," Lewis said.

Accompanying Secretary Lewis were Maj. Gen. C. S. Irvine, Col. Don Graham, and Myron Tracy.

Lewis was also very complimentary about this section of the country and said he thought the big Marietta aircraft plant was ideally located.

This was Lewis' first visit to the Marietta plant since being placed in charge of procurement for the Air Force. Major General Irvine has visited several times in the past.

On the intensive tour of the plant, Lewis, General Irvine and other visitors were escorted by D. J. Haughton, vice-president and general manager of the Georgia Lockheed Division; Col. Joe P. Walters, Air Force plant representative at Marietta; Fletcher Brown, Lockheed manufacturing manager; K. V. Sampson, director of administration.

$339,314 Bid on Link To Marietta

An apparent low bid of $339,314 for paving a 2.95-mile stretch on State Route 3 to Marietta, lying inside the City of Atlanta, was received by the State Highway Dept. Friday.

The department also received an apparent low bid of $215,249 for construction of 2.325 miles on four-lane highway on U. S. 41 in Clayton County from a point south of Jonesboro to the railroad bridge just north of Lovejoy.

This would be another leg in the proposed superhighway connecting Atlanta and Griffin. The four-lane road between Atlanta and Jonesboro already is completed or under contract.

The McIntosh Paving Co., Inc., of Atlanta submitted the apparent low bid for paving and relocating State Route 3. It would leave Marietta St. at a point near Huff Rd. and travel northwest to the intersection of Bolton Rd. and Adams Dr.

BOLTON FIRM LOW

E. A. Hudson Sons of Bolton was the apparent low bidder on the Clayton County four-lane project.

The department opened bids on 17 other projects over the state.

Biggest project was completion of the Jekyll Island bridge at Brunswick. The Industrial Contracting Co. of Jacksonville, Fla., submitted an apparent low bid of $482,784 for building the superstructure of the bridge. The substructure was let in a separate contract earlier.

Other projects and apparent low bidders follow:

Richmond County: 4.732 miles grading on the Camp Gordon access road, MacDougald Construction Co., Atlanta, $272,403.

Henry County—4.768 miles of grading on the Jonesboro-Flippen road, G. L. Stricker of Austell, $47,985.

Turner County—5.989 miles of paving on the Ashburn-Leesburg road, Garrison Construction Co. of Abbeville, $84,837.

THOMAS BID $92,972

Thomas County—7.91 miles paving on the Coolidge-Pavo road, Marion Construction Co., Ocala, Fla., $92,972.

Dooly County—6.15 miles of paving on the Vienna-Tippettville road, C. E. and J. H. Reeves of Americus, $76,381.

Spalding County—Moving Confederate monument, now located at Hill and Solomon Sts. in Griffin, 80 feet south on Hill St., W. J. Tidwell Sr., Douglasville, $4,110.

Gwinnett County—10.683 miles of paving on the Lawrenceville-Braselton Road, McDougald-Warren, Inc., Atlanta, $84,599.

Bleckley County—3.714 miles of paving and a new bridge at Gum Creek on the Cochran-Chester road, Cherokee Construction Co., Inc., Hawkinsville, $68,989.

Turner County—1.85 miles of paving on state highway connection in Ashburn, Ocmulgee Construction Co., McRae, $16,152.

Attack on School Head Probed by Dodge Police

Constitution State News Service

EASTMAN, May 22—Local law enforcement agencies Friday continued their investigation of reports that a shot was fired at Dodge County School Supt. Manning Trippe.

At the same time, the Dodge County Grand Jury had indicted Trippe for the third time on a charge of embezzling school funds in 1951.

Officers said they were told a shot was fired at Trippe's car as the superintendent was riding home one night recently. Trippe tried to overtake his unknown assailant, but failed, it was said.

The superintendent recently was shoved from his office by an assailant while 75 citizens protested Trippe's refusal to recommend the re-election of Joe Andrews as principal of the Dodge County High School. This assailant was not identified.

Trippe would not comment on the alleged shooting.

A report of the State Auditor for the year ending June 30, 1951, said that "payments for school building repairs were not properly supported by invoices and vouchers." A short time later, the Dodge County Grand Jury asked for an itemized statement. Two indictments have been returned, charging embezzlement.

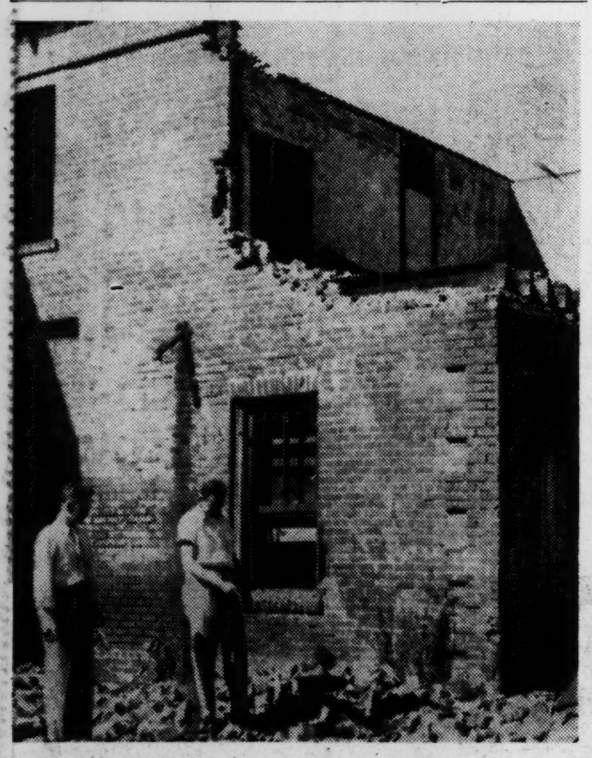

Trippe's attorney's raised technical objections to these indictments. The state decided to obtain a third indictment, instead of proceeding on bills which might be technically faulty.

FALL OF THIS WALL KILLED LABORER . . .

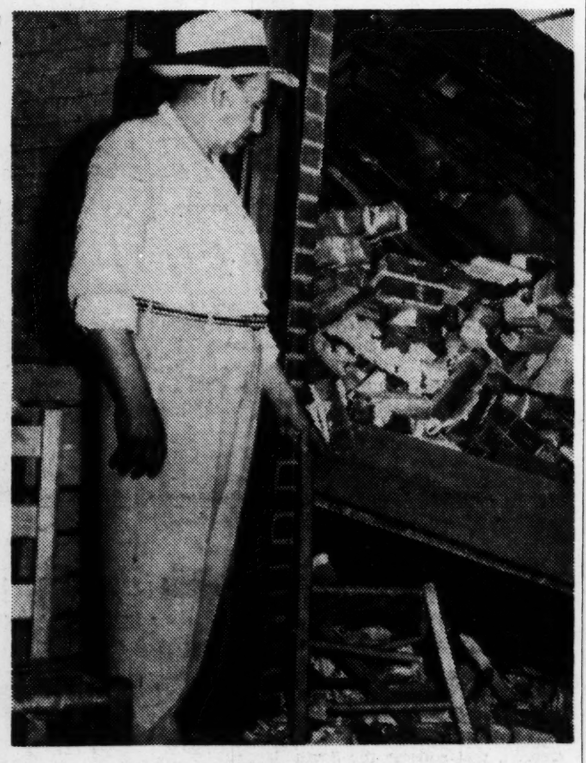

Worker Killed By Bricks; 2d Spared Here

A Negro laborer was killed Friday by an avalanche of falling bricks as he was helping to raze a 74-year-old house on Whitehall Street, S. W., police reported.

The laborer, identified as Anthony Clem, an employee of the ABC Wrecking Co., was killed, police said, at 543 Whitehall St.

Det. M. A. Johnson said three workmen were preparing to push over a brick wall of the two-story home and warned Clem, who was cleaning brick 20 feet away, to move. The three, Claude Tyler of 636 Garibaldi St., S. W.; Bud Thomas, 499 Humphries St., S. W., and Henry Jackson of 538 Robbins St., S. W., said they observed Clem get up and then proceeded with their work. After the wall collapsed, they said, the body was found under bricks.

In a second incident involving falling bricks, Robert Dulich, employee of Curtis Fuller Produce firm at the State Farmer's Market, narrowly escaped injury when a wall at the firm collapsed about 7:15 p. m. Friday. Falling bricks smashed a chair in which Dulich had been seated seconds earlier.

Miss Delaine Knapp Honored at Luncheon At Waldorf-Astoria

By DOTTY LUNDY

Delaine Knapp, junior at Bass High School, was one of four teen-age girls honored for their skill in fashion design recently at a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City. Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri, actor Melvyn Douglas and Nancy Malone, teen-age star of the hit play "Time Out for Ginger," appeared on the program.

Delaine, of 1889 McLendon Ave., N. E., placed first in the sportswear classification in the National Subteen Design Contest sponsored by a magazine for girls. Her prize was a $500 U. S. Savings Bond. The top four designers won over nearly half a million entries.

Fraternity Sweetheart

Marilyn Ginsberg, junior at Northside High School, will be officially pinned sweetheart of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity at Emory University Saturday night at the group's Sweetheart Dance. The ball will be held at the chapter house.

Marilyn, who lives at 786 W. Wesley Road, N. W., attended E. Rivers School and is secretary of DOZ sorority.

Roswell High Students have been cramming in elections of new officer slates with studying for exams. FBLA president of the Marietta chapter, Miss Pat Brown, installed the Roswell club officers. Brown High Senior Trip

Sixty members of last Wednesday's graduating class of Brown High School leave by chartered bus Saturday morning on a trip to Daytona Beach, Florida. The group expects to arrive in Daytona Saturday night, after making sight-seeing trips through Green Cove Springs and St. Augustine. They will spend four days at Daytona Beach, making side trips to Silver Springs and Marineland.

Parents and teachers who are accompanying the students include Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams, Mrs. T. L. Savage, Mrs. E. A. Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roberts and Mr. William T. Sebree.

Award Winner

Darrol De Long, Henry Grady High School senior is receiving the compliments of his classmates and praise from the school faculty these days as a result of the recent honor he received in competition with 7,893 students all over the country.

As a member of the National Honor Society, the young high school student entered the recent examination on general aptitude prepared by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Only the highest ranking members of the honor society can compete. Among the 205 certificates of merit awarded was the one given to Darrol, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. DeLong, 709 Cumberland Circle, N. E. He is a member of the Henry Grady High School orchestra, the Beta Club and is president of the high school band.

Post graduation plans of the award winner include attendance at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Koreans Need U.S. Clothes

By YOLANDE GWIN

Clothes hoarders take note. People in Korea have to dress too.

What about those articles in the closet stacked away because they are too good to throw away, yet they are not included in the current wardrobe for spring and summer?

With one week left for spring cleaning—(it should be over by June 1)—tackle the job this week end with a special project in mind.

LAST TWO DAYS

Saturday and Sunday are the last two days for collection of clothes to be sent to the war-torn area by the American Relief for Korea.

Officials in the organization, it is interfaith in its setup, are urging Atlantans to poke into closets, extra rooms, trunks and boxes stored in basements and collect all the unused clothing for needy Koreans.

TIED IN BUNDLES

Officials request that clothing be tied in bundles (not packed in boxes) for the collection will be sent from the United States to Korea in duffle bags.

All day Saturday and Sunday the clothing may be left at the following churches, The Temple, Sacred Heart, Trinity Methodist, Peachtree Christian, Grace Methodist, Christ The King, Peachtree Road Methodist, Inman Park Methodist, Epworth Methodist, Inman Park Presbyterian, Ormewood Park Presbyterian, St. Paul's Methodist, Stewart Avenue Methodist, Grant Park Baptist, Gordon Street Presbyterian, Bethany Methodist and Brown Memorial Methodist.

DESCRIPTION

Blistered toes,
Sunburned nose,
Calloused fists,
Dirty wrists,
Baggy pants,
Roguish glance,
Tousled head,
Rumpled bed.
Pride and joy,
That's my boy!

'Thirteen' Lucky Digit For PTA

By JEAN ROONEY

Thirteen was a lucky digit for Georgia this week.

That was the number of delegates attending the convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Peach state representatives, headed by Mrs. H. M. Kandel of Savannah, brought home armloads of honors from the national meet.

AMONG TOP STATES

Georgia is among the top states in recruiting PTA members, the delegates were told.

Under the leadership of Mrs. A. J. Tuten of Alma, enrollment chairman, Georgia showed a nine per cent gain in members in 1952.

The generosity of the South's "Empire State" was lauded at the meeting too. It placed second in raising funds for a new headquarters building for the PTA in Chicago.

A tribute to the literacy of Georgia's PTA members were two awards won by the state for securing subscriptions to the National PTA magazine.

SURPRISE DELEGATES

Surprise delegates at the Oklahoma City sessions were Mr. and Mrs. William C. McFee of DeKalb County. They interrupted a business trip through the West to attend the meeting.

Georgia's other representatives were: Mrs. Kandel, Savannah; Mrs. Ralph Hobbs, Cataula; Mrs. Fred Knight, Cartersville; Mrs. C. B. McCullar, Milledgeville, and Knox Walker, Mrs. G. E. Harike, Mrs. B. C. Young Jr., Mrs. T. J. Leverette Sr., Mrs. J. A. Harding, Mrs. J. P. Talton and Mrs. John Mann, all of the Atlanta area.

Miss Saul Is Married

Mrs. Robert Bass of Memphis announces the marriage of her granddaughter, Miss Judith Bess Saul, to Ernest William Stix, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stix of St. Louis, Mo.

The bride is the daughter of the late Abner Saul and the late Mrs. Bernice Bass Saul of Atlanta. She is a graduate of Washington University where she was a Phi Beta Kappa.

Mr. Stix, a graduate of Harvard, is secretary of Rice-Stix, Inc. After a honeymoon in France and Italy, he and his bride will reside at 1409-A Pine St., St. Louis.

Muscles Succumb To Gravity

By IDA JEAN KAIN

There is nothing wrong with most figures that couldn't be fixed by infusing elasticity into the muscles which comprise nature's girdle.

To see how much difference the right pull can make, take this test: Stand in natural position and place hands on waist, thumb and forefinger encircling waist with the fingers spread wide apart to span the sides of the abdomen.

Pull up strongly with the lower abdominal muscles and at the same time pull in forcibly. If this action slims inches off the front line, all in the world you need to do is restore bracing tone to those particular muscles to streamline your figure.

SUCCUMB TO GRAVITY

What has happened to those once nice strong muscles? They have succumbed to the pull of gravity. This is likely to happen with years of leaning against your store girdle instead of keeping a grip on those muscles and leaning on your own good backbone.

A small amount of exercise backed with the practice of correct posture will make this muscular girdle as good as new.

EASY EXERCISES

To make it easier, strengthen the girdle muscles with these exercises . . .

Position: Lying on back on floor with legs together.

Movement: Shove right leg out to the side, keeping heel on floor. Return. Do this six times, and make the middle muscles do the work. Then shove left leg out sideward and return—six counts. Now slide legs apart slowly, keeping heels on floor . . . slide them together.

To tone the side-front muscles . . .

Position: Lying on back, knees bent, soles of feet flat on floor.

Movement: Drop left knee down sideways toward floor as far as it will go without strain; leaving foot in place but turning it on its side. Then slowly raise knee again to first position. Repeat six times or so with each leg or with right and left alternately.

Versatile Raisins Flavor Salad

This frosty-looking fruit salad will taste extra good on a hot summer day. Its cool, refreshing flavor is accented with fresh lemon juice. To give it a de luxe fruit flavor we've combined plumped seedless raisins, that are so plentiful now, with crushed pineapple and crisp apples.

Whipped cream is added for fluff and creaminess.

FUN WITH FOODS

We doubled the recipe below to fill the large mold and garnished it with sprigs of mint. It's one of those versatile salads which may be served either as a regular salad or a dessert.

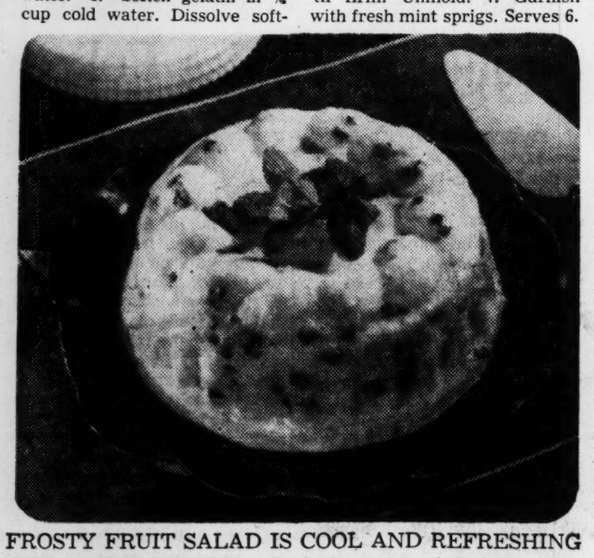

Keep it in mind for summer when you'll be entertaining your friends at luncheon and want to serve food prepared ahead.

CREAMY FRUIT SALAD

⅔ cup seedless raisins
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup granulated sugar
½ cup boiling water
¼ cup lemon juice
1 (9-ounce) can crushed pineapple
½ cup whipping cream
1 cup diced apple
Fresh mint sprigs

By JEANNE HIGGINS

1. Rinse and drain raisins. 2. Cover with water and boil 10 minutes. Cool in cooking water. 3. Soften gelatin in ¼ cup cold water. Dissolve softened gelatin and sugar in boiling water. 4. Blend in lemon juice and pineapple. Cool until slightly thickened. 5. Fold in whipped cream, well-drained raisins and apple. 6. Turn into individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold. 7. Garnish with fresh mint sprigs. Serves 6.

National Magazines Spotlight Atlantans

The names and faces of Atlantans continue to pop up in national magazines, with the current issues chalking up something of a record.

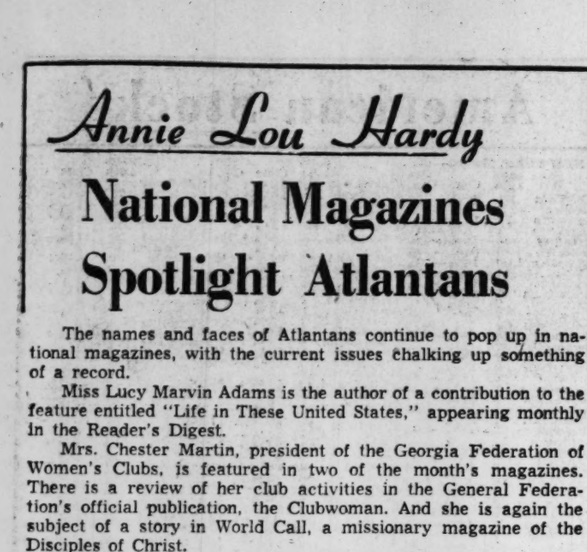

Miss Lucy Marvin Adams is the author of a contribution to the feature entitled "Life in These United States," appearing monthly in the Reader's Digest.

Mrs. Chester Martin, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, is featured in two of the month's magazines. There is a review of her club activities in the General Federation's official publication, the Clubwoman. And she is again the subject of a story in World Call, a missionary magazine of the Disciples of Christ.

The pretty blue-eyed baby smiling from the cover of the current issue of Better Living is Robin Bond, daughter of those former Atlantans, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Bond, now of California. Her mother is the former Dorothy Medlock, an Agnes Scott graduate, who flew her daughter across the continent to have her christened in the Agnes Scott Chapel, where she herself was married six months before receiving her degree.

With the Dionne quintuplets turning 19 on May 28, their official biographer, Atlanta's Lillian Barker, has a story coming up in the Sunday issue of the American Weekly.

IT HAS BEEN both "hello" and "good-by" for Mrs. Robert Leps, who flew in from San Juan, Puerto Rico, the first of the week for a brief visit to her mother, Mrs. Harold Armstrong of 2450 Peachtree Rd. Mr. Leps arrived from New York on Friday to join her, and on Monday they will leave to establish residence in San Francisco.

SAILS FOR GERMANY—Mrs. Horace Lackey of 1580 Jonesboro Rd. sails from New York aboard the Maasdam for Germany, where she will join her husband, Pfc. Lackey, who is stationed there with the U. S. Army.

Mr. Leps, an importer-exporter, is being transferred to California. Mrs. Leps is the former Elizabeth Armstrong.

THE GRADUATION of her grandson, Fred Ware Jr. of Augusta, from Darlington School will take Mrs. Howell C. Erwin to Rome today. She will be joined there by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ware Sr. of Augusta.

The occasion will evoke many memories for Mrs. Erwin, for 50 years ago as Runa Patterson she was a freshman at Shorter College in Rome.

MR. AND MRS. MORRIS BRANDON and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Hogue, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Craig of Houston, Texas, have returned from Sea Island, where they spent several days at the Cloister.

Your Stars Today

DAILY GUIDE—If you got off to the country early you can hope for a pleasant trip with little pleasures to lift your spirits. The one thing to be on guard against is that you will feel inclined to accept promises or build up your hopes too high on surface appearances. This is a time when discrimination is needed.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, GEMINI! Do you feel as if you had suddenly come out into the bright sunshine? Enjoy these days as much as possible but don't neglect to make the most of the opportunities coming up now and then. Now is when you must make hay while the sun is high in the heavens for you.

Duke Visits U.S. Bases, Hailed by Americans

BRIZE NORTON AIR BASE, England, May 22—(AP). The air-minded Duke of Edinburgh visited three U. S. air bases in England today—and made a hit with thousands of Americans.

Airmen's wives, teenagers and members of the WAF—Women's Air Force—strained against guard barriers to catch a close-up of the handsome husband of Queen Elizabeth II.

"Oooh, isn't he good-looking," came the chorus as the smiling duke rode by in an open jeep or about the bases to see what sort of a punch is packed by F-86 Sabre jets and other American planes in the front-line defenses of West Europe.

American children were let out of school to join a welcoming throng of 10,000 at the big U. S. depot at Burtonwood, 200 miles northwest of London. They waved and clapped enthusiastically as the duke rode by.

Hundreds of Americans, most of them women, waited in a rain for more than an hour at Brize Norton, third and last base of the tour, to greet the duke, who recently won his own wings as a pilot.

The duke's trip was the first official visit by any member of the British royal family to a U. S. air base since the end of World War II.

BUSINESS ROUNDUP

Red Tape Held Bogey To Trade

By ALEX JOINER

The foreign trader that makes a profit today earns every cent of it, because of reams of paper forms, laws and regulations and controls.

That's the word from E. E. Schnellbacher, assistant director for intelligence and service of the U. S. Commerce Department. Speaking at Emory University Friday night as a feature of World Trade Week, Schnellbacher said it is hardly possible to measure the importance of foreign trade to our daily lives.

"New vistas opened up by foreign trade stimulate farmers, industrialists and workers to new efforts to new ideas, to enter new fields of work. The travel of businessmen and tourists fosters the interchange of ideas; advances our artistic and intellectual developments. And finally, mutualy profitable foreign trade promotes international understanding, friendship and peace."

Despite these apparent advantages, he said, world trade has become, in the last two decades, "difficult and complicated and, consequently, expensive and time-consuming."

But without export trade, he pointed out, important segments of our industry would either grind to a halt or continue at substantialy reduced levels. Among them: petroleum, metal, consumers durable goods, machine tools, agricultral and textile machinery, to mention only a few.

FISTER PROMOTED

F. M. Fister Jr. of Atlanta, building and equipment engineer in the general office of Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Co., has been appointed chief engineer for the company in Louisiana effective June 1. He succeeds Ben F. Hatfield of New Orleans, who has been appointed vice-president in the revenue requirements department of the company in Atlanta.

Distillery Stocks Rise On Tax Ease

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, May 22 — Good news peppered the Stock Market today but, although prices tried to rally and a double handful of issues scored good gains, the majority of the list was flaccid. Some of the oils, rail shipments, liquors and airlines showed strength, as did American Telephone and Telegraph. Motors were weak and other soft spots were scattered here and there.

Sales were down to 1,350,000 shares from 1,590,000 on Thursday and of the 1,087, issues traded 418 fell, while 387 gained and 282 were unchanged. Seven of the 10 most active stocks gained, American Car and Foundry, the leader, by 3 points.

Most of the morning prices drifted and tended lower. Chrysler, down a point, led a wobbly motor section. American Car and Foundry, after an opening spurt to 46⅝ on news of a stock and extra dividend, stagged to its Thursday close of 45.

Following news that the U. S. court of appeals had confirmed the right of the Federal Power Commission to regulate sales of natural gas by producing companies such as Phillips Petroleum, that stock dropped more than a point.

The rest of the market turned firmer in the early afternoon. American and Foreign Power took the lead and made a new high. Liquor shares improved when the house ways and means committee approved a bill to extend the tax-free period on liquor stocks from eight to 12 years. Schenley led.

July Cotton Paces Dip

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Cotton futures closed 45 cents a bale lower to 30 cents higher today. Most of the activity centered in nearby July, which experienced recurrent flurries of liquidation. That month at one time was 70 cents a bale under the previous close. While July recovered somewhat, the demand for contracts was not impressive.

The slow action in exports and the cotton textile market caused traders to lighten commitments in July and replace purchases of new crop months. Spot firms covered July and sold later months in the process of transferring hedges forward.
